10 MINUTES' ARGUMENT

Federal Jurist Sustains Writ of Habeas Corpus In Noted Exclusion Case

THIS multi-party system is practically universal in the parliaments of continental Europe. And it has broken down in all of them. In Germany the semblance of parliamentary government is kept going by the iron will of von Hindenburg, who makes the warring parties submit by threatening to rule without them if they do not. In France there is no tax bill yet, with the franc falling and the remedy known, simply because the bloc system is unable to choose between several methods, any one of which would meet the situation. In Spain, Italy and Greece, parliamentary government has disappeared, and the people endure dictators, not because they like them, but because a dictator can decide and act, while parliaments under the bloc system, are helpless. Only in Britain and America, where the two-party system survives, is party government operable.

NEGRO HANGED FOR MURDERING 3 IN KENTUCKY

(By United Press)
LEXINGTON, Ky., March 5.—In a hush, when even the hostile crowds peered over the troop-guarded jail walls were silent, Ed Harris, negro, was dropped through the trap of the gallows here early today.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, March 5.—The official explanation of the explosion, which wrecked a munitions transport as it was passing through the city today, says that 22 cases of hand-grenades exploded. The death list now has risen to nine. Eight of the injured are believed likely to die.

Everyone Should Vote in Referendum

It is vitally important that this sentiment be learned. There is no real, definite way to find out except by a monster, nation-wide referendum such as this one.

Here is why it is important that the voters express their opinions. Congress has already been asked to modify the Volstead act. Temperance organizations are pleading that the country as a whole does not want a change. Other organizations are pleading that the country as a whole does want a change. Church societies have studied the question—and some have declared for, some against, the prohibition law.

The decision was announced from the bench. It established the opinion that, since her conduct was no crime in South Africa—where the countess and the Earl of Craven lived—before she was divorced by the Earl of Cathcart, many years her senior. He merely presented the evidence formally.

These difficulties are a reminder of the importance of machinery of government. The peoples of France and Germany are not less capable of self-government than are those of Britain or America. But they have less workable machinery to govern themselves with. Most of the people of Italy wanted order and prosperity, and when they could not get them from parliament they accepted them from Mussolini. The people of France would like sound money and a balanced budget. If they can not get them democratically, they may have to get them dictatorially. The people of Germany, in five successive elections, have voted right every time; but they have never, by so voting, got a Reichstag to give them what they needed for peace and order.

WOMAN MEDIUM PLACED ON TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—The Rev. Susanna Harris-Kay, organizer of the California State Spiritualist association, went on trial today, accused of demanding fees for mediumistic services and operating without a license.

CAN not Americans direct their minds, for a while, to the uninteresting question of the machinery of their own government? There is, to be sure, more "kick" in "turning the screws out," and indulging in other emotional and moral rascality. We waste a thousand dollars by inefficiency for every one stolen by dishonesty, and we make a hundred honest blunders for every malicious one. The primary trouble is machinery.

BANDITS LOOT STATION. CARRY OFF OPERATOR

Two unmasked bandits, operating with small pearl handled pistols from a Ford car, held up a Standard Oil service station, located at Broadway and Lemon street, Anaheim, at 10 o'clock last night, securing $38 in cash.

Ordering Lloyd Folger, operator of the station, into their machine, they drove him nine miles southwest of Anaheim, where he was thrown out. He was not injured, however.

Folger walked to a nearby farm house, from where he telephoned a report of the holdup to the Anaheim police. He obtained transportation from the farmer and returned to Anaheim shortly before midnight. In the meantime, an operator of another service station, noticing that the Folger station did not close at 10 p. m., as usual, investigated at 10 p. m. the till robbed. He reported to the police and an investigation started.

Good descriptions of the bandits were secured by police and members of the sheriff's office today are investigating. Both men were said to be approximately 25 years of age, well dressed and resembled the bandits who last night held up and robbed the Davis Drug store, at 1250 South Main street, Santa Ana.

Two PN-10 planes, improved models of the PN-9's, which attempted the San Francisco-Hawaii flight last summer, are being completed at the aircraft factory for the flight, which is said to be planned via Central American, the Panama canal and Mexican ports, a distance of approximately 7000 miles.

own money, the government will help complete that project. If the money for improvement were placed in my hands, I would first make Newport bay an ideal yacht harbor, and then I would direct my efforts in the direction of the national government and have it develop the project as a commercial port. Water transportation is the transportation of the future, and this country should prepare to meet the situation of the future. By doing so, it will be strengthening its position as a competitor with other Southern cities for the great industrial development that is certain in Southern California.

Importance of New Population
Discussing improvements in the city, and particularly those in which the association is interested, the banker laid emphasis on the fact that business expansion is always in the direction of the buying population. He asserted that development of subdivisions on the east side, and particularly east of the railroad tracks, and populating of those subdivisions, would do more to increase business for merchants than would improvement of business structures. Fourth or business structures on any of the other business streets on the east side. In his opinion, the corner of Fourth and Main streets or the corner of Fourth and Broadway always will be the business center of the city. Pointing to the various situations in the city as to possibilities of future expansion in his belief that the would finally be the points of greater population increase.

Hervey stressed the situation here of the absence of industrial and other business activities requiring headquarters offices, and pointed out that there is little inducement for the building of two and three-story structures. He recounted his own experiences here in the renting of the second floor of his two-story structures on East Fourth street in support of his assertion. Stating that the business property owner is entitled to a net return of 6 per cent annually on his land investment and 8 per cent on his building improvements, Hervey said that, on this basis, rents in Santa Ana were low.

Sees Increase in Values
He predicted that real estate values soon would again be on the upward trend, basing his prediction on the fact that investments run in cycles. He said that stock investment was in the last period of its cycle and that the next cycle would be in real estate. He said that economists believe the real estate boom will come in the latter part of this year.

Assertion that the Santa Fe has budgeted money for a new depot here in 1926 was made by J. E. Livesey sr., in reporting for the railroad crossing committee. He said he understood that the program had been mapped out by company officials, and that the new structure would be erected south of the present depot. In about the center of the company's holdings. He also reported that the blocking by Santa Fe trains of the crossing on Fourth street had been eliminated by issuance of an order by the superintendents that engines drawing southbound trains take on water at Oceanside. Instead of at Santa Ana. Livesey also submitted a sample of an electric sign to be located on main entrances to the city to designate the city. The signs will cost $346.88 each, with installation costs added.

Col. S. H. Finley reported that an architect is now drawing plans for uniform remodeling of store fronts on each side of Fourth street, between Main and Mortimer, and that it was possible the plans would be submitted to owners within the next 10 days or two weeks.

Other committee reports were made by the following: E. T. McFadden, depot; George Wells, ornamental lighting; F. L. Mitchell, auto park; N. Luxembourger, removal of street trees; and W. A. Gerrard, membership. J. C. Metzgar, secretary-treasurer, presented the financial statement, showing that the organization had a balance of $19.30. The source of revenue is a membership fee of $1 per year.

J. E. Liebig, S. H. Finley, J. H. Stout, W. R. Hervey, J. E. Livesey sr., N. Luxembourger and J. S. Stuart were elected directors. The directors later will elect officers. Albert Hill has served as president since organization last September and presided last night.

During the dinner, selections were rendered by a quartet of young women violinists, the players being Misses Lorene Porter, Rowena Newcomb, Georgia Bell Walton and Dorothy Lutz.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Reformed Presbyterian

The Missionary society of the Reformed Presbyterian church, met this week with Mrs. G. N. Greer as hostess. Paul, the great missionary, was the devotional topic, led by Mrs. Greer. A review of mission work in Cyprus emphasized the great progress that has been made on the island, Reformed Presbyterian being the only work carried on there. Mrs. T. L. Faris presented this. The home mission study chapter was reviewed by Mrs. M. L. Sterret.

New officers elected for the year were Mrs. Adah F. Thompson, president; Mrs. Samuel Edgar, vice president; Mrs. G. N. Greer, secretary; Mrs. L. A. Downie, treasurer; Mrs. B. M. Thomson, corresponding secretary. Twenty-one members were present and five visitors. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and a most enjoyable social hour followed the meeting.

Congregational

The Congregational Woman's Union held its usual monthly all-day session Wednesday in the church bungalow. Mrs. J. E. Gowan, new president of the union, presided over the morning business session. The number present and the sincere interest taken in all details of the work promised the present administration a successful year. The treasurer's report was especially gratifying. The union is also rejoicing over the improvements the church trustees have

Pneumonia!

The season is on--

SINCE the dawn of civilization, pneumonia has scourged the human race. Hippocrates, father of modern medicine, described this disease in 400 B. C., and yet after 23 centuries, we know little more about it than he did. The cure for pneumonia is as yet undiscovered. But we do know that colds lower the vitality and hence pave the way for pneumonia. Many fatal attacks, however, might be averted if more of us would follow this maxim—

"Never let a cold get a start"

Coriza—rhinitis—no matter what medical men may call the common cold, it is nevertheless a disease. A person with a bad cold is sick and should go to bed for a day or two.

Complete rest enables the body to regain lost vitality and so throw off germ infection. Unfortunately, it is not possible for all of us to get such rest. The next best thing is to take vigorous action at the first sign of a cold.

At night take a purgative—a hot bath, and plenty of hot lemonade—go to bed under blankets to induce perspiration. Briskly massage the throat and chest with Vicks for five minutes. Then spread on thickly—about one-eighth of an inch thick—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Leave the covering loose around the neck so the vapors arising from the application on the chest may be freely inhaled.

Pneumonia is now more deadly than Tuberculosis

Government records show that deaths from pneumonia reach their peak during January, February or March. Formerly, tuberculosis, the "Captain of all the Men of Death," as it was called by John Bunyan, was the most fatal scourge of mankind. Since 1916, however, pneumonia has gained the grim tide, averaging yearly 32 more deaths per 100,000 population.

Vicks acts two ways—Internally and externally

When applied over throat and chest, Vicks acts like a poultice or plaster, increasing the circulation and so helping to prevent congestion in the region of the lungs.

At the same time, the ingredients are released by the body heat in the form of vapors and these vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication direct to the air passages and lungs.

The ingredients of Vicks are printed on every package.

Andrews Requests
U. S. Dry Bureau

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury
Andrews, dry chief, told the house ways and means committee today, in advocating a bill for special prohibition and customs bureaus in the treasury, that the former bureau was absolutely essential to proper functioning of dry enforcement.
"There is more work in prohibition enforcement than any one man can do," Andrews said. "It cannot function efficiently because of the great amount of detail work."
A separate bureau of customs also is necessary, Andrews said, to provide for a stronger personnel in Washington. Both the government and the business interests will benefit by the proposed bill, he explained, and stressed the necessity of additional and better paid lawyers in the customs service.

The Well-Dressed Man
By BEAUNASH
Corrects Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

FOOT-LIGHTS ON FASHION
When high shoes were the universal favorites, the observer took a snapshot of your ankles. Now that low shoes (Oxfords) are in general vogue, the observer takes a time exposure.
Hosiery is indebted to shoes for being led from behind the scenes into the spotlight. Thus, many well-dressed men devote as much taste and thought to the selection of their socks as to that of their coats. Let a man pay proper attention to his feet and he won't have to pay any attention to them.
That, after all, is the secret of correct dress—to look well-turned out from hat to shoe and, then, to put your clothes out of your thoughts. Style has been admirably likened to a window pane through which you gaze without being aware that it is there.
A man should be clothes-conscious in the sense that he recognizes the social importance and material advantage of being smartly and becomingly dressed. He should be unconscious of his clothes in the sense that, once on his back, head, hands or feet, they should be off his mind. Fingering one's scarf; tugging at one's shirt-cuffs; fussing with one's breast-pocket handkerchief; darting cover-glances backward and such self-conscious, self-complacent or self-conceited habits detract from that poise and assurance which mark The Well-Dressed Man.
You hear tiresome twaddle about "pride in appearance." Pride is a snobbish, raffish sort of motive—"and the Devil did grin, for his darling sin is the pride that apes humility." The gentleman no more puffs with pride at being well-turned-out than he gloats over being well-mannered or well-spoken. It is not a matter of pride at all. It is a matter of habit and a matter of course.
The sprightly patterns in silk or hosiery half-hose, illustrated here, forecast the trend of taste for springtime. The brightest of colors are employed, though the designs are invariably small. One's socks should harmonize with handkerchief, shirt and cravat rather than with the suit. Be sure to procure half-hose of the correct size. This both promotes comfort within the shoe and avoids wrinkling over the instep.

HAVE YOU VOTED IN POLL
ON PROHIBITION YET? AN OPPORTUNITY IS PRESENTED

Have you cast your ballot on the prohibition question yet?
Yesterday The Register printed ballots so that its readers could join in the nation-wide poll that is being conducted by 700 newspapers in all parts of the country.
Did you mark one and send it in?

If not, do it today.
The ballot is printed herewith again today, so that all who missed it yesterday will not be deprived of a chance to make their opinion known.

It provides for the expression of one of three opinions:
"I favor keeping the prohibition amendment as it now stands, with strict enforcement."
"I favor repeal of the prohibition amendment."

"I favor modification of the prohibition law so as to allow the sale of light wine and beer."

Seven hundred other newspapers, scattered from Maine to California, are printing similar ballots. The results of each separate poll will be tabulated by NEA Service, newspaper feature syndicate, at Cleveland, O., and a comprehensive statement of the nation's position on the prohibition law will be at hand.

Don't fail to have a share in the voicing of this opinion—your name will not be made public.
Vote now!

IMMIGRATION OF MEXICANS OPPOSED HERE

The directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau are opposed to unrestricted Mexican immigration, according to a resolution passed at the meeting, held yesterday in the hall of records. The resolution was in reply to a telegram from Senator Hiram Johnson, asking for the opinion of the farm representatives in regard to the several bills now pending in congress, relative to the subject.

The telegram stated that a strong appeal had been made by the cotton growers of Imperial and San Joaquin valleys to dispense with the registration and head tax provisions now imposed on Mexican immigrants in order that cheaper farm labor might be secured. Other factions, believing a greater influx of Mexican labor would mean the beginning of peonage of the American farmer, have asked the senator to support a measure to place Mexicans on the quota basis the same as other nations.

After reviewing the situation and hearing the report of the executive committee of the farm bureau, which had made a brief study of the question, the directors asked that the immigration regulations remain as they now are.

Refuse Loan of Stanley
In reply to the letter received from H. A. Lake, president of the Orange County Communities Fair, asking for the full-time services of A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the farm bureau, until the first of October, the directors determined that it would be impossible for them to dispense with the services of their secretary for so long a time and refused the loan. In taking this action, the directors expressed themselves as being in hearty sympathy with the fair management and extended as full co-operation as otherwise possible. Stanley is now secretary of the fair and it appeared agreeable to the directors for him to continue serving in this capacity.

Building Owner Held Liable for Death in Quake
SANTA BARBARA, March 5.—The state industrial accident commission went on record today with the first ruling that the owner of a building is responsible for death of an employee from earthquake causes. The decision was made in the complaint of the widow and children of Segimundo Mosteiro against the London Guarantee and Accident company. Mosteiro was killed when the building collapsed during the quake last June. "An act of God" defense failed when it was shown that the quake merely forced defective material to collapse.

Siam's King Gives Queen Sovereignty
BANKOK, Siam, March 5.—King Parajitpok, who succeeded to the throne on the death of his brother, last November, crowned himself and raised the queen to sovereign rank by seating her at his side, in accordance with Hindu customs.

Bishop Cantwell Seeks Site for Senior Seminary

Bishop Cantwell, of the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, now being assured of the success of the drive now in progress to raise $1,000,000 to build a junior seminary in Hancock park, Los Angeles, for the education of young men for the priesthood, now is casting his eye about for a suitable site for the senior seminary and college.

The Rev. Father Eummelen has been asked by the bishop to be on the lookout for a site in Orange county of at least 100 acres for the pretentious buildings which would be erected for the plant, and Orange county Catholics and citizens are enthusiastic over the prospect.

Father Eummelen has enlisted the assistance of such men as Carl Klatt, Carl M. Helm and J. P. Murphy in looking over lands adjacent to Santa Ana, where there is an abundance of water and other qualifications, which would interest the bishop.

Women of England, especially those with large families, are learning to repair boots and shoes, as they know it will save money for them.

Radio Program Given By March Committee At Barn Meeting

RADIO STATION BARN broadcast last night by Santa Ana Community Players at The Barn where Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fletcher had charge of the monthly program which followed the business meeting. In the latter interval, chief in point of interest was the introduction of Fred Rafferty, veteran member of the association, and now serving as president since the resignation of Robert R. Shafer.

Announcement that Mr. Shafer had resigned came as a surprise to the members, all of whom felt the deepest regret that the efficient president's press of business affairs prevented him from continuing in the office to which he has given truly remarkable time and attention for the past year. The recent fire in the building where the Shafer Music house is located, and the resultant necessity of remodeling the store, was considered by the members, as sufficient excuse for him to lapse his activities, but all expressed the warm hope that it might be for only a temporary interval. Under his wise administration, Players' affairs have assumed a favorable aspect such as they had never known before, and his unceasing attention to every detail, has placed the association on a firmer financial basis than ever before experienced.

Needless to say, the association as a whole, feels that in Mr. Rafferty's capable hands, the same policies which have been tested, will be continued with unintermitted success will continue to crown the Players' activities.

Among business matters discussed was the ticket selling campaign for the forthcoming play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," which is now in rehearsal and will be given four nights in succession beginning March 17. The same plan used at previous productions, will obtain and Mr. J. L. Basson, secretary, will distribute tickets among the members for them to dispose of in a pre-sale.

The matter of footlights at the Ebell auditorium stage was taken up and Miss Norma Wingood aroused a storm of applause when she announced that the first current events section of Ebell society of which she is a member, had decided to make the lights their gift to the club. Miss Wingood was made chairman of a committee to work with Miss Hazel Bemis and G. S. Richardson, in an effort to have them installed ere the next production.

Return of James Duggan (the popular "Jimmie") was welcomed, and was evinced in characteristic manner by the display of a striking poster which he had designed for the advertising the "Passing of the Third Floor Back." Mr. Duggan has completed a poster for display in each of the church auditoriums of the city, and has enlisted the efforts of the art classes at the high school in making more.

At the program hour, Warren Fletcher asked the Players to remember that they were not seeing any action but were receiving the various features via wireless. An inverted chair represented the huge horn of the loud speaker, and when the stage lights were turned on and the rest of The Barn thrown into darkness, Mr. Fletcher stood at the microphone and opened his radio program with the time-honored children's hour. The "mike" was extremely realistic, although its humble origin must have been the counters of the well-known Woolworth Emporium, for it was a small frying-pan suspended at the front of the stage.

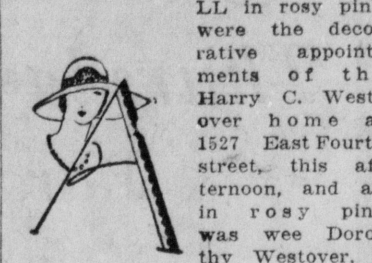

Miss Margaret Cummings, introduced as "Little Margie Cummings," entertained with a delightful reading from Carl Sandberg, regarding the adventures befalling "Bilko Blimber" and her amulet. Mrs. Fletcher (Juanita Wright Fletcher) and Miss Dorothy Carothers, introduced as "The Gold Dust Twins," entertained with popular songs for which Miss Carothers played a tinkling banjo-ukulele accompaniment. True to established custom, the songs were "dedicated" to absent friends including Mrs. Fletcher's mother, Mrs. W. N. Wright in Santa Barbara.

"The Wisdom Tooth" was the entertaining play presented by Miss Pearl Camblin, Miss Carothers, Mrs. Theodore B. Kelly and Tom Glen with the aid of Mr. Fletcher who provided the necessary slamming doors, shuffling footsteps and other aids to the action. Following news items read by Theodore B. Kelly, little Virginia Lee Peterson, baby star of the group, gave to charming readings "A Pain in My Sawdust" and "The Discouraged Kindergarten."

A male trio composed of Jack Rose, Ted Grigg and Warren Fletcher gave a group of popular songs, unaccompanied and were interrupted by the appearance of "the radio mother," Mrs. William Cummings with refreshments for the performers, according to the announcer. The tray contained salad, wafers, hot coffee and chocolate and was the signal for radio fans and artists to join in the enjoyment of the refreshments provided by the committee, a distinct change from the usual sandwiches.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher were highly complimented upon the originality and cleverness of their program which thus used every member of the March committee. With two other talented folk, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Brisco, to head the April event, speculation is rife as to the possibility of approaching or exceeding in interest, programs already given.

Two-year-old Lassie Welcomes Friends On Birthday

LL in rosy pink were the decorative appointments of the Harry C. Westover home at 1527 East Fourth street, this afternoon, and all in rosy pink was wee Dorothy Westover, a veritable rosebud of a baby who was celebrating her second birthday by greeting some fifteen of her baby playmates, brought by their proud mothers to share in the happy event.

Mrs. Westover spared no pains to make her small daughter's anniversary a delightful one, and arranged on the grassy sweep of the lawn, were diminutive chairs and tables where kindergarten games might be played. Nearby were the cushioned seats and comfortable chairs where the group of mothers chatted and watched the tiny folk in their play.

The occasion, in the opinion of the birthday lassie, assumed special importance in addition to the anniversary, for it was her introduction to that special delicacy ice cream. At the refreshment hour, each tiny guest was to be prepared for the joys to come, by donning a saucy little pink cap. Mrs. Westover's choice of favors for the party. Then they were to enjoy the vanilla ice cream and birthday cake.

The snowy icing of the cake was adorned with a design worked out in wee pink jelly drops and bore two rosy candles. The confection was the gift of one of Dorothy's sincerest admirers, Mrs. Charles Geren, a friendly neighbor. About 30 babies and young mothers comprised the guest list.

Here and There Among Orange County Clubs

By OLIVE LOPEZ, Press Chairman Orange County Federation of Women's Clubs

Mrs. Alex P. Nelson, president of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs, her executive board and the presidents of Orange county clubs, were entertained Wednesday at the Placentia Round Table clubhouse where greenery and spring flowers added to the attractiveness of the place and at noon, luncheon was served cafeteria style.

They remained for the club session in the afternoon, at which Mrs. Charles J. Thamer, presided. Mrs. Percy L. Bradford gave a song group and the club program included the playlets, "Greta Green" and "Ashes of Roses," two bits of English history of the early eighteenth century, when quaint gowns and powdered wigs were the mode. The plays were presented by the dramatic section of the Round Table.

Mrs. Nelson introduced her official family, after which she and Mrs. E. E. Knight, southern district president, were presented. Round Table Shower In response to a plea made by Dr. Bessie Raiche, county chairman of Child Welfare, the Round Table held a shower for the children's open air health camp, and many appreciated articles were presented. Dr. Raiche made another plea Wednesday for army blankets, asking for at least one from each club.

Dr. Raiche also urged vaccination, quoting figures to show that in states where vaccination is compulsory, smaller figures show only 400 deaths in ten years, and where it is not compulsory statistics show as many as 50,000 deaths.

Save the Landmarks Mrs. Victor Montgomery, county chairman of history and landmarks, said that very few landmarks remained in Orange county, but an effort must be made to retain those which now exist. She expressed great regret at the extinction of the old Yorba homestead, and thought that at least a tablet should be placed there to mark the spot. It was urged also that historic and objects bearing on pioneer history should be kept in Orange county in expectation that the Native Daughters of the Golden West will in the near future place a museum somewhere in the county.

Mrs. Montgomery also asked that steps be taken to preserve the old flag owned by Bert Stambaugh. It has been ascertained that Mr. Stambaugh, whose family resided in Santa Ana for many years, has tentatively promised the flag to the Native Daughters.

Country's Illiterates

Miss Kate Rea, county chairman of education, states that the United States stands only tenth in literacy of her people. There are 5,000,000 illiterates in this country. Miss Rea urged that clubwomen co-operate with the Parent-Teacher associations, whose slogan is "Down with Illiteracy," and also work for vocational training. It is said that much of the crime committed by young people of today is due to lack of interest in schools, and something should be done to give young folk who will not attend college an education which will fit them for other work.

Miss Rea urged that parents show more interest in school attendance.

Club House Remodeled

The Woman's club at Huntington Beach opened its remodeled building on Tuesday evening with a dancing party, many delegations from county clubs enjoying the merrymaking. About $500 was cleared from the sale of tickets and "diminishing" luncheons brought $200. Cost of the work was about $2000.

Starting with only 12 clubs in 1880, the Amateur Boxing association of England now controls over 200

Owing to Lenten conditions, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, business manager for the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra, and the committee of the Ebell society, have decided to postpone the benefit concert announced.

Miss Evelyn Trickey Becomes Bride of Hugh Childs

THEIR MANY friends were surprised and delighted at the announcement just received of the quiet wedding of Miss Evelyn Trickey and Hugh Childs, an occurrence of last Friday, February 26, and followed by an early departure of the happy young couple for their new home at Vista.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Trickey of 726 South Van Ness avenue and since her graduation from Santa Ana high school with the class of 1925, has been in the insurance office in the Ramona building of E. D. Holmes Jr. Mr. Childs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert E. Childs of 1054 West Fifth street, and has been associated with his father in the contracting business.

He has several contracts now in the vicinity of Vista and the young people have taken a pretty little bungalow there to be close to the work which will probably last until the end of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Shauer To Live in Brawley

The young matrons who enjoyed the friendly social events presented during the week by Mrs. Arthur Shauer at her Garfield street home, regretted to learn that the parties were really farewell events prior to the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Shauer and their small daughters for their new home at Brawley.

Mr. Shauer, agriculturist for the Santa Ana Sugar company, recently took over a big ranch at Brawley, and will assume active management the first of April. In consequence he and his family will leave almost immediately for the new home. The little daughters are five-year-old Elizabeth, and he baby sister Dorothy, just three months old.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shauer are interested in clubwork, he being prominent in the Santa Ana Den-of-Lions while her interests have lain with the Ebell society.

ed for March 11 until later in the spring, when Mrs. Slabaugh promises an interesting event.

Neckties imitating the brilliant markings on the skins of various reptiles, such as the chameleon and python, are now being manufactured.

BANDITS ESCAPE WITH CASH AFTER BEATING PROPRIETOR OF MAIN STREET DRUG STORE

Two masked bandits held up and robbed the Davis Pharmacy, 1250 South Main street, at 8 o'clock last night, after severely beating the proprietor, W. H. Davis, over the head with the butt end of a revolver and binding him, hand and foot. Fifty dollars was taken from the drug store cash register.

Milton Davis, a customer, who walked into the drug store just after the bandits entered, also was ordered to throw up his hands and, with the proprietor, ordered to the rear of the store, where he was kept until after the bandits had robbed the cash register.

The bandits leisurely left the store, entered an automobile, which had been parked on Wilshire avenue, and made their escape.

Sends Call to Police
W. H. Davis managed to free himself from his bonds and called the police, who arrived, however, too late to prevent the escape of the bandits. In the meanwhile, Milton Davis hurried to the police station, where he made a report.

Davis was standing near the front of the drug store, with his back to the door when he heard someone enter and turned. Two guns were trained on him and one of the bandits ordered, "Stick 'em up." The proprietor complied and was ordered to the rear of the store, which is separated from the front by a partition. Both men accompanied him to the rear and bound him securely and were searching his pockets when the customer entered.

The proprietor, hearing Davis enter, shouted, "Hold-up, Police, Police!" Immediately the larger of the two hold-up men struck him over the head several times, inflicting severe cuts. The shorter of the two bandits went to the front of the store and, at the point of a gun, ordered Milton Davis to come to the rear of the store. The man obeyed. While both were covered with a revolver in the hands of one of the bandits, the other looted the cash register.

The bandits then ordered Milton Davis to "beat it." He ran north on Main street as the bandits left the store.

The proprietor of the store said today that there was approximately $50 in the cash register. He also had $50 in his trousers pocket, which was not found by the bandits, who were interrupted in their search of his clothing by the entrance of the other Davis.

Handkerchief, Glove Left
Both men wore colored handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces, but a good description of the men was obtained by Davis, who gave it to the police. One of the handkerchiefs and a glove were left behind by the hold-up men.

Other than the money, nothing was taken from the store.

City Marshal Claude Rogers and Officers Mohn and Elliott answered the call to the drug store. Mohn untied the proprietor and obtained medical attention for him.

Wine Growers of Germany In Riot
BERNKASTEL, Prussia, March 5.—A furious riot occurred in this famous wine-growing center, due to resentment of the Moselle wine growers against the government's heavy tax on German wines. After a protest meeting, which was addressed by two members of the reichstag, an angry mob of two thousand, with black flags and placards describing the distress in the wine industry, charged the office of the treasury board, smashed the windows and mauled the officials, then demolished the furniture.

The wreckage and official documents were thrown into the street, where they were set on fire.

The mob rushed to the tax office next and the furniture and safes in that building were thrown out and everything inflammable went up in smoke and flame.

The mob then crossed the Moselle, attacking the tax office on the other shore, wrecking it.

Even when clad in winter garments, the weight of a smart woman's clothing may be as little as three pounds and seven ounces.

FROCK VALUED AT $5000 ON DISPLAY HERE

An artist's frock, reputed to be valued at $5000, will be on display in the lobby of the Yost theater before each performance of Hollywood Varieties and Filmland's Fashions, today and tomorrow.

The frock is the property of "Hilda of Hollywood," a famous artist, and contains the signatures of more than 500 film celebrities, from Charlie Chaplin to Baby Betty, movieland's youngest star.

Hollywood Varieties is presented as a fashion revue, with rapid moving specialties. Famous bathing girls open the pageant, which is followed by well known mannequins from the Hollywood picture studios.

Joseph A. Eliason, well known producer, of Hollywood, is personally in charge of the revue and is acting as master of ceremonies on the program. This is the third year that Eliason has brought his revue to Santa Ana.

The "Hollywood Varieties" personnel comprises the following artists:

Rose Boequet, as "Miss Van-zouwer," Erna Poldi, as "Miss Buenos Aires," Mary Redmond, as "Miss Los Angeles," Rosello Novello, winner of the Fashion Show British Exposition; Vivian Adelle, as "Miss Venice," Hilda Dowling, as "Miss San Diego," Marie Dowling, as "Miss Santa Cruz," Baby Betty, "Wampas Mascot," Larry Mayer, former Santa Ana player, and Milton Vale, champion old fiddler of California, and challenger of Melie Dunham, Henry's Ford's candidate from Maine.

More than a dozen Santa Ana merchants are displaying ready-to-wear apparel on the models, celebrating "Buy It" in Santa Ana.

Russ Marriages Are Short Lived

LENINGRAD, Russia, March 5.—The government has published statistics which show that the average duration of marriages in Leningrad is only four years, there being 237 divorces each year for every one thousand marriages.

This condition is explained by the ease and small expense with which divorces can be obtained under the new Soviet civil code, the only requirement being the expressed desire of either party that the marriage contract be annulled. A divorce costs only $2.

In 1925 there were 13.8 marriages for every one thousand of Leningrad's population. In 1914, the figure was 6.4.

$500 Donated for Bathing and Jazz

"The planet needs some life," she said, "and I'm going to supply it." Miss Novitsky won the $500 in a Jewish press subscription contest.

HARBOR CHAMBER DIRECTORS CONDEMN EFFORT TO CREATE COAST, INLAND ANTAGONISM

At the regular meeting of the directors of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, last night, a resolution was passed condemning the anonymous postcards, which were mailed throughout Orange county in an effort to create antagonism between the coast and the interior. The postcards were characterized as "vicious." The resolution urges the business men of Santa Ana to increase their trade in the coast area, and calls upon the residents of the coast towns to trade in Orange county.

"Recent propaganda, by unknown persons, to create the idea of trading in Long Beach, has not been kindly received by the people along the coast," said George T. Peabody, president of the harbor chamber. "The ever-growing possibilities of the coast area, from Huntington Beach to Laguna, with its present population of more than 17,000 people, has tempted Long Beach, and a campaign seems to have been started to develop that trade for Long Beach."

"But we know that our future lies with Orange county; that our dollar spent in Orange county may come back to our pocket, while the dollar spent in Long Beach is gone forever."

"That the postcards mentioned were sent out with the idea of creating trade for Long Beach is very evident, because they were sent not to residents of the coast towns but to the merchants and residents of Santa Ana and other inland towns, and it looks as though the whole idea was to create ill-feeling and antagonism on the part of the interior, to coast development."

"The coast towns are for Orange county. It was a coast man who, in the associated chamber of commerce, introduced the resolution calling for a bond election, if necessary, to bring the university to Orange county. It was a coast man who introduced the resolution, in the same body, urging the county to unite on the Fullerton site as against one offered free, by its owners, in the coast section. It was the city of Newport Beach which offered, as an additional inducement, to give to the university 200 feet of bay frontage, worth, at present prices, at least $100,000."

"Long Beach may be a 'friendly town,' as the postcard says, but Santa Ana is a 'near relative,' and blood is thicker than water any day."

The postcards sent to Santa Ana merchants and other inland cities were signed by the "Orange County Coast Cities Defense club." After considerable effort had been expended, it was discovered that no such organization existed.

Still Captured And Man Jailed In Liquor Raid

A 10-gallon whiskey still, operating at full blast, was confiscated by sheriff's officers, led by Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, last night, a mile west of the end of West First street.

Maiguel Kurlos, 34, found in the house raided by the officers, was arrested and is being held in the county jail on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor. He did not resist arrest.

Several gallons of alleged "white mule," found on the premises, also were confiscated by officers and brought to the county jail with the prisoner and still.

H. W. McKague and Jack Coombs, deputy sheriffs, accompanied McClellan on the raid.

BOMBAY, India, March 5.—"Old Clubfoot," an enormous man-eating tiger, which has been terrorizing the natives in Mysore for several months, has killed his seventeenth human victim.

NEW MARKERS FOR GRAVES OF U. S. SOLDIERS

By C. B. DOBBS
Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Different monuments for Christian and Jewish soldiers buried in overseas cemeteries have just been decided upon by the battle monument commission. For the Christian dead, a Latin cross, 47 1/2 inches high and 20 inches wide, will be used. Jewish men will be a Star of David mounted on a shaft the same height as the crosses.

Each stone will be inscribed on the cross arm with the soldier's name in full, his rank, unit, division, state and date of death. For the unknown dead, the inscription: "Here Rests in Honored Glory an American Soldier Known But to God."

The crosses for the overseas cemeteries will cost more than three times as much as the crosses now provided by the war department for soldiers buried in national cemeteries in the United States. The cost at the quarry in the United States of each marker will be $28. The cost of transportation to Europe, concrete foundation and cost of erection will bring the total to $36.50 each. With clerical expense added, the total cost to the government of erecting all the headstones over 30,500 graves will be $1,181,000, of which one-half is being appropriated in the pending war department bill.

The United States has eight cemeteries abroad, one in England, one in Belgium, the others in France. The identity of all the interments the known, with the exception of 1962, but even at this date, seven years after the close of the war, the department is still carrying on its effort to complete the identification work. During the last fiscal year, 42 additional identifications were made.

No expense has been spared in making the American cemeteries abroad creditable in every way to the country they represent.

The increase in business at the Panama canal will make necessary before long construction work to increase its capacity, according to Col. M. L. Walker, governor of the Canal Zone.

The war department has plans ready for doubling the capacity of the canal by the construction of a third lock. This will cost approximately $100,000,000, and will require 10 years to construct.

While the increase in traffic through the canal will make necessary before long construction work to increase its capacity, according to Col. M. L. Walker, governor of the Canal Zone.

Radio is going back inevitably to the short wave length. In the view of Major General Saltzman, chief signal officer of the army.

Recent experiments conducted by the army show that this is necessary.

An officer at Fort William McKinley, in the Philippines, recently sent a message to General Saltzman, in Washington, with a home-made quarter-kilowatt station by using the short wave length. The army's 10-kilowatt station on the island of Corregidor cannot even reach Hawaii because it uses the long wave length.

The Washington message, General Saltzman said, was no freak, as the Fort McKinley officer has frequently communicated with San Francisco and Washington since that time.

The value of gold, silver, copper, lead, and zinc produced in California in 1925, according to the estimate of J. M. Hill, of the bureau of mines, department of commerce, was $22,893,500, a decrease of only $44,657, compared with the value of metals produced in 1924. There was a decrease in production of gold, silver, and copper, but considerable increases in the output of lead and zinc as compared with the previous year.

The production of gold in 1925 was $13,015,600, a decrease of $134,575, compared with 1924, which is a very good showing, considering the decrease in yield of several of the larger gold quartz mines and from copper ores. That the decrease was not longer can be attributed to the increased yield of dredges, though there were fewer boats in operation in 1925 than in 1924.

The production of silver in 1925 was 495,053 fine ounces less than the previous year, but totaled 3,096,080 ounces, valued at $2,136,295. The decrease is largely due to the fact that the California Rand Silver, Inc., was short of mill water during the summer and was not able to produce at capacity. The decreased yield of silver from copper ores was offset by the increased yield from lead ores produced in the southern part of the state.

The Republican National committee has again abandoned as a will-o'-the-wisp the hope that they can in the near future carry any considerable part of the "solid south."

The committee was particularly

Billy Evans Says

RETORT COURTEOUS
The retort courteous is usually an excellent weapon to settle a dispute on the ball field, but occasionally it reacts.

Some years ago the New York Yankees had a pitcher on the payroll by the name of Cy Pieh, which sounds like something new in the dessert line.

The first game that he worked for the New York club, the opposing batters discovered his delivery and name were closely related. He was given a good trimming. I was the umpire.

As a rule recruit pitchers don't argue with the umpires. Most of them feel they must become established before taking issue with the arbitrator as to his judgment on balls and strikes.

Cy Pieh, however, was a decided exception to the rule as most American league umpires who tried to satisfy him on balls and strikes, soon learned.

THE LAST LAUGH

Pieh began kicking on almost the first ball pitched. He continued to object while he remained on the rubber. Since only a few balls managed to get by the batter, I paid no attention to his protests, being more interested in the way the opposition was hitting the ball.

He was finally taken out and as he walked past me on his way to the bench, I couldn't refrain from remarking:

"Well I won't be bothered with you after the Fourth of July." In baseball a player able to stick after that date is considered as having won a place.

Most of the other umpires on the staff also reminded Pieh in much the same manner. July 5th of that year brought me one of the biggest laughs I ever had, simply because I didn't think Pieh had a sense of humor.

In my mail of July 5th was a postal card with these words: "Note the date and the fact that I am still in the league. What are you going to do about it?" Four other umpires got similar postals.

WORDS WITH STING

Baseball has any number of rather stereotyped expressions such as the one, "you won't be around to bother anyone after the Fourth of July." Well do I recall the number of times it was hurled at me back in 1906 when I broke into the American League. Also many others equally sarcastic and uncompimentary.

"If that is the way you call them, you won't be long in this league."

"And whom, may I ask, recommended you to President Johnson?"

These as well as scores of other reverse English compliments were slipped me when I made my debut.

It may seem rather strange, yet of all the remarks made to me in the early years of my big league career, two words uttered often by Manager Fielder Jones of the White Sox used to get under my skin more than anything else I know of.

SHORT SPEECH

If I happened to call a ball on him, he might turn around to the catcher and say: "It was a perfect strike, right through the heart."

"Guessing again," however, was his favorite speech to me. Late in the game he would vary it a trifle by saying:

"Still guessing."

Until I became established these two words, guessing again or still guessing, was the length of my speech with Fielder Jones, then the famous manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Take it from me, like Cy Pieh, I have since reminded a few players who predicted July 5th, 1906, would mark my passing to the minors.

JAPANESE ARE ARRESTED BY U. S. OFFICERS

Seven Japanese, riding in a large touring car, were arrested by U. S. immigration officials in Tustin, yesterday afternoon, and taken to Los Angeles, where they were turned over to the Los Angeles department headquarters.

The seven claimed to be actors, who had been in this country for only two months, it was said. Immigration inspectors were working near Tustin at the time they spied the car.

Five federal inspectors have been in Orange county for several days, searching for aliens who have entered this country unlawfully, for the purpose of deporting them.

L. N. Nicholson, in charge of the federal officers here, announced that he understood that several Japanese and Mexicans had suddenly departed the county from the Irvine ranch, where they have resided for several months.

Nicholson also told of a capture made by federal immigration men in Banning, Wednesday, when four Japanese and two Mexicans were arrested. The Mexicans were smuggling the Japanese into this country, it was claimed. All are being held in Los Angeles. When the machine carrying the Japanese approached Indio, according to Nicholson, the Mexicans forced the Japs to get out and encircle the town about, as they knew a "trap" had been located there for some time.

BORDER TRAFFIC TO BE DISCUSSED

Suggestions for controlling and, at the same time, reducing the flow of American tourists to Tia Juana, thereby supporting the vice dens operated in that place, will be voiced at the next regular meeting of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Toastmasters' club, set for March 10, it was announced today.

Flake Smith is in charge of the program, which follows:

"Save the Redwoods," Robert G. Horn; "Better Highways," C. N. Grace; "Water Conservation," C. E. Camm; "Reduce Automobile Accidents," H. W. McAlennan; "Close the Border," L. W. Archer.

Alleged Booze Is Captured and Car Wrecked In Chase

Four 12-gallon kegs of alleged liquor were secured and a new coupe wrecked, following a furious chase which started at Thirtieth street and central avenue, Newport Beach, last night. The driver escaped.

Acting on a tip, Officer Jack Schilling followed the coupe, when it arrived in Newport. Seeing that he was being followed, the driver "stepped on it." Unfortunately for the motorist, however, he turned into a "blind" street. The driver leaped from the car, which ran into a ditch and overturned.

The car was minus license plates and a registration certificate.

Realtors Auxiliary

Meeting yesterday afternoon at the Carl Mock home on East Fourth street, members of the Realtors' auxiliary held an interesting and profitable session as guests of Mrs. Mock.

The resignation of the president, Mrs. Harry Bladen, was respectfully accepted. Mrs. Frank Harris was named as her successor in office and will have the assistance of Mrs. James Livesey sr., as vice president.

Business matters considered, included the reports of various committees, that of the harbor committee, offered by Mrs. Mock, being of special interest. Plans of the social committee for the coming year, also sounded especially attractive as presented by the chairman, Mrs. John Newcomer.

Following the business interval, Mrs. Mock served appetizing refreshments as the climax of a pleasant social hour. Departing guests carried with them the anticipation of another such friendly meeting on the first Thursday in April when Mrs. James Wiley will entertain at her home on East Santa Clara avenue.

Judgment for $429.19 and a decree of foreclosure against property at Newport Heights is demanded in a suit filed in superior court by the First Commercial bank, of Orange, against Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lutes. Attorney L. F. Coburn, Orange, represents the bank.

DISSENSION IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH DENIED BY MODERATOR

Dr. Charles Erdman Tells Santa Ana Congregation Differences Are Minor

SPEAKER EXPLAINS MISSIONARY WORK

Plea for Religious Education Among Children Is Made by Famous Leader

A plea for a religious renaissance, in which all the best aspiration and knowledge of the time would meet and merge, and where the children of the land would be brought up in knowledge of God, was made last night by Dr. Charles R. Erdman, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, who spoke in the First Presbyterian church in this city.

The noted churchman, once the storm center in the struggle between the liberals and the fundamentalists of the Presbyterian church, has just completed a tour of inspection to the Pacific coast. He will return, tomorrow, to Princeton, N. J., where he makes his home. His visit to Santa Ana, arranged at the urgent request of the Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, necessitated the cancellation of some very important engagements in Los Angeles and Pasadena.

Many Hear Address

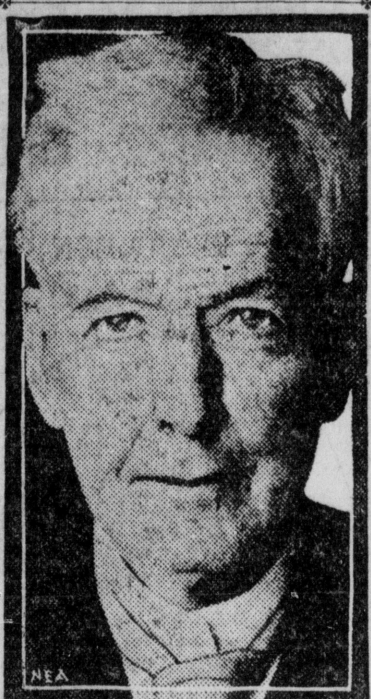

The appearance of the distinguished churchman, although announced only a few days ago, brought a record attendance, including communicants and other church people from all parts of the county.

Dr. Erdman was elected moderator at the general assembly, held last year in Columbus, O. For a number of years, he served on the faculty of the Princeton Theological seminary, Princeton, N. J. Charged with being altogether too tolerant in his views, he was deposed as student advisor at the seminary and his place was taken by Dr. Robert Dick Wilson, an ardent fundamentalist.

Dr. Roberts presided over the services, assisted by other ministers residing in the county. The moderator was introduced by Dr. Guy W. Wadsworth, of Los Angeles.

ESTATE FIGHT FOLLOWS SUIT ON ANNULMENT

Although death took the matter from the hands of lawyers who were trying to annul the marriage of Benjamin Mize, 76, to Mrs. Besse Mize, of Orange, a court battle over the Mize estate today was keeping alive the question whether the marriage, ended by death, was legally binding.

Mrs. Mize seeks appointment as administrator of the estate, which she values at $2500. Abner Mize, brother of the deceased, opposes her petition, charging that the Orange woman married Mize merely to get possession of his property, which the brother claims is worth $10,000 instead of $2500. The case is being contested in the superior court of Los Angeles county.

Mr. and Mrs. Mize were married last October 20. Before Mize died, February 7, a suit to annul the marriage had been filed by Abner Mize, acting as guardian for his brother, who was said to have been mentally incompetent. Mize died before the suit could be heard.

The same plea of mental incompetency is made in the estate litigation, to oppose the right of the widow to assert her claim to the estate.

P.-T. A. BEGINS FIGHT AGAINST VILE READING

Vice President of Organization Appoints Committees for Southland

With the appointment of various committees to deal with different phases of the situation, definite plans for a well organized campaign by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, against traffic in questionable literature, are well under way. It was learned today in Santa Ana P.-T. A. circles.

Following are the committees, appointed by Mrs. R. L. Cardiff, first vice president, to work in the southern part of the state:

Has 49 Servants; Borrows Butlers

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 5.—"If you'll lend me a couple of butlers for Saturday night, I'll lend you two or three for your party on Tuesday." Friends loaned Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury eight butlers for her party last night. Mrs. Stotesbury's staff of servants numbers 49, but she was short of butlers and had to send out the SOS.

MOTORISTS ASK $25,000 A PIECE FOR INJURIES

Charles McDonald and C. C. Skinner, whose car crashed into a Boulevard Express company truck, parked along Commonwealth avenue, west of Fullerton, last October 7, want $25,000 each for their injuries.

Retaining the Los Angeles legal firm of Messey, Mumper, Hughes and Robertson, they have filed suit in superior court against the express company for damages. McDonald asking judgment for $25,000 and Skinner demanding $25,000.

The claims include medical expenses and loss of wages during the period that the two men were disabled.

McDonald received two broken ribs, abdominal and chest injuries, besides cuts and bruises. As owner of the car he wants $205 damages for wrecking it. Skinner sustained a severe blow on the skull, nervous shock, chest injuries and other hurts.

Many Americans Living In London

LONDON, March 5.—Americans living in London now number 6700, and the number of Australians is approximately the same. The Canadian population is 5000 and there are 4700 South Africans and 1760 New Zealanders in London.

Of the 147,000 foreign residents, nearly one-half are Russians and Poles. Three million of the 4,500,000 living in London are London born. The French population numbers 13,500. There are 11,300 Italians and 8800 Germans.

150 STUDENTS TO APPEAR IN POLY CONCERT

Orchestra, Band and Glee Clubs Will Participate In Music Entertainment

Why is music so popular among students of the Santa Ana polytechnic high school?

Although it may have "charms to soothe the savage ear," there are other reasons given to account for its appeal to the Poly students.

More than 150 students in the music department will appear in a concert in the school auditorium at 8:15 tonight, under the direction of Miss Louise Mansfield.

P.-T. A. Indorses Move to Control Cosmetics, Styles

At the monthly meeting of the high school Parent-Teacher association, held in the Y hut, a resolution was passed, indorsing the movement in the Girls' league, in the high school, toward regulating the use of cosmetics and the styles of dress worn by high school girls.

Miss Ellen M. Smith was appointed chairman of philanthropy.

Mrs. Meager spoke on the prevention of camp in Trabuco. She told how the P.-T. A. could best help the camp during the coming summer.

When the question box was opened, many interesting questions were discovered. The mothers answered these questions to the best of their ability.

Following the business meeting, a social hour was held, during which refreshments were served.

OLD-TIME COUNTRY RUBIE IS CHARACTER OF PAST; FARMER REGULAR FELLOW

"The old-time hayseed, who used to get up at 4 a. m. and work until dark, and who was called a hick when he went to town, has disappeared and has been replaced by specialists in their line. The farmer of today does not get up at 4 o'clock and work all day and he is not regarded as a hick when he goes into town,—but he is accomplishing more, and enjoying life more than the farmer of a few years ago."

Felton Browning, citrus grower, chairman of the program put on at the Lions club yesterday, gave expression to the quoted sentences by way of introducing a program of the relationship of agriculture and business.

The program was developed from among the club members, and was educational in the extreme on points pertaining to the relationship of the two groups.

Harold E. Wahlberg, president of the club and county farm advisor, discussed the extension service maintained by the University of California, and pointed out clearly that the farm advisor's office here and the Orange County Farm bureau were two distinct organizations, although both worked out of the same office here. They are co-operating in full, he said.

Orange County Ranks High Pointing to the productivity of the soils of Orange county, the farm advisor said that of 325 counties in the United States, Orange county was 15th in the point of value of products grown in 1925. He touched upon the cultivated area in the county, amounting to 175,000 acres, with approximately 120,000 acres under irrigation. There are 4466 farms in the county, he said. He emphasized the necessity for increasing the water supply for irrigation purposes and pointed out the sources of supply for the county, comparing this with the water used and showing a drain on the supply of 40,000 acre feet annually in excess of the supply.

C. S. Crookshank, banker and citrus grower, paid tribute to farmer associations, and declared that, were it not for the California Fruit Growers' exchange, citrus growers would be receiving less for their produce than they have been getting. He referred to the days before the association, when producers received small returns, and in too many instances received bills for freight charges for oranges and lemons shipped to eastern markets.

"The exchange has been and is the salvation of the citrus industry," Crookshank said. "It probably is true, unfortunately, that growers who remain outside the associations get more money for their crops than they would with membership in the organizations, but if it were not for the 75 per cent of the growers who are loyal to the associations, and thereby to their own interests, those who sell to independents would not get the returns they do. Should the membership in associations be reduced to the point where the exchange would be ineffective in marketing, the industry would

STATE RULING IN REGARD TO REGISTRATION IS BOMBSHELL

Qualifications Dating from 1924 Not Valid and Can't Be Utilized on March 26

BOOKS CLOSED ON 24TH OF FEBRUARY

Large Numbers of Orange County Residents Disfranchised by Opinion

Upsetting the previous customs and practice of registering voters, and throwing a bombshell into the ranks of the voters themselves, by barring thousands from participation in the school elections set for March 26 in Orange county, an opinion from Attorney General U. S. Webb, received today by County Clerk J. M. Backs, states that 1924 registrations are not valid and cannot be used for the coming school elections.

The 1924 registrations were automatically cancelled on January 1, this year, the attorney general holds, except for municipal elections, or any special election, held before April 1.

Too Late to Qualify. The opinion is in direct opposition to past practice, under which the 1924 registration would be maintained in force until April 1 of this year, for any election whatsoever. It comes too late for those who were depending upon their 1924 registration to qualify them as voters at the school elections set for March 26. The 1924 registration closed, for these elections, on February 24, the customary 30 days before the election. Thus, those who thought themselves qualified to vote at any election up to April 1, have no opportunity to remedy the disenfranchisement. Thousands will be affected by the opinion, in all of the elementary school districts of the county, outside the city of Santa Ana, which has no election scheduled this year.

Webb's opinion was rendered to officials in Fresno county, where the question was raised, and to Will C. Wood, state superintendent of schools. Copies have been received by local school authorities and County Clerk Backs.

Authority for Opinion. Section 1094 of the political code is authority for the attorney general's opinion, which upsets precedent with such stunning surprise to school and registration officials.

The section provides "that where any general or special municipal election, or any other special election, including any primary election, and all special elections to vote for officers, shall be held on or after the 1st day of January and before the 1st day of April of any even-numbered year, the original affidavits of registration and indexes used in the last general state election... may be used at such election... All affidavits of registration made prior to the 1st day of January of any even-numbered year shall be deemed cancelled upon said day except for the sole purpose of being used as hereinbefore stated..."

Quoting the statutes that define the various kinds of elections, the attorney general explains that the school elections set for March 26

Stage and Screen

WEST END THEATER
If you were engaged to marry and just before your wedding it was discovered that you were a foundling and did not even know your own real name—would you go through with the ceremony? See "Shattered Lives" now at the West End theater and learn one solution of this vital problem. "Shattered Lives" has a cast that is composed of all stellar actors, Edith Roberts, Robert Gordon, Ethel Wales, Eddie Phillips and Newton House are five of the principal names listed for this new production.

WEST COAST-WALKER

For an evening of chuckles, "The First Year," the production starting tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater is to be highly recommended, according to advance reports.

This fascinating comedy of young married life is adapted from the well-known and tremendously successful John Golden stage success by Frank Craven. It begins with the courtship of the bashful Tommy Tucker, who has to be coached by the kindly old Dr. Livingston in the manner in which one should propose. Then, after he has surprised both himself and Grace Livingston by asking her to marry him, the picture goes on to show how they get through "The First Year."

Matt Moore and Kathryn Perry are cast in the leading roles. They are supported by J. Farrell MacDonald, Margaret Livingston, Frank Currier, Frank Cooley, Virginia Madison, John Patrick and Carolyn Snowdon.

Heading the five-act vaudeville bill is Margaret Doherty and company. Identified in producing revues for the last 12 years. The Rainbow revue is a dancing and singing number, with five girls and one man. There are all special songs and elaborate wardrobe of seven complete changes. Others on the bill are: The Connor troupe in "An Evening at Home"; Halligan and Lee in "A Smile a Minute"; Mann and Clark in "Premier Tap Dancers"; and Billy Van, "The Crazy Cartoonist."

In addition to this there is a Mack Sennett comedy entitled, "Whispering Whiskers."

YOST THEATER

What would happen if a flippant, thrill-seeking young American girl should set her cap for a conservative, woman hating young foreign nobleman?

This situation forms the unique theme of "The Unguarded Hour," a picture which opened last night at the Yost theater, and scored a big hit with the audience. Milton Sills is starred as the nobleman, and Doris Kenyon has the featured role of the young American girl.

We will not spoil an excellent picture by telling you the story, but we will say that Miss Kenyon answers the question most satisfactorily. She is James Sills, who has the role of an Italian duke who has been most indifferent to feminine charms. But in the end he succumbs, and the manner in which the character is played by Miss Kenyon brings about all this furnishes enough thrills, laughs and heart interest to satisfy any motion picture fan.

Sills, as ever, is excellent in his characterization of the Italian duke. We like the acting of Sills, for he acts with such sincerity. Miss Kenyon is admirably cast and carries you away with her comedy work, as well as her scenes of a highly dramatic type. She proves herself an extremely versatile young woman.

To Use Airplane For Campaigning

SEATTLE, March 5.—Because the fifth congressional district of Washington covers eight large counties and ordinary means of campaigning would necessitate much time for travel, John Fancher, Spokane county farmer, former army flyer, has bought himself an airplane to aid him in his fight for the seat in congress now held by Sam H. Hill, of Waterville, a Democrat. Fancher is a Republican.

Telephone Placed In Broker's Tomb

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 5.—A telephone and electric lights grace the interior of the mausoleum in which the body of Martin A. Sheets, wealthy stock broker, was entombed. Sheets asked that his tomb be so equipped that he might have opportunity to talk with the outside world if he should awaken in it.

DISSENTION IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH DENIED

les, superintendent of the Southern California church district.

The head of the Presbyterian church in America presented some very interesting observations regarding religious activities in this country. At the very outset of his address, he refuted the assertion that there is a breach in the ranks of the Presbyterian church—a controversy between the extreme fundamentalists and the mild conservatives.

Differences Are Minor

While there might have been and still are some minor differences, there are no divisions in the church, he declared. Such differences, he continued, are confined to small groups and do not affect the great mass of loyal Presbyterians.

He told his listeners that he, himself, had been classified as a "modernist" by the so-called fundamentalists, when, as a matter of fact, he was one of those who coined the word "fundamentalist" in the vocabulary of the church.

Hinting at the dissension, which found expression at the last general assembly of the church, he made it clear that the same related to theological differences and had nothing to do with the cardinal doctrines of the church. He took the stand, however, that all disputes and controversies should be settled by the duly constituted courts of the church.

Making a plea for religious instruction to children, Dr. Erdman told the congregation that today, in Eastern states, the great number of Protestant children are brought up without any knowledge of religion.

Work Among Jews

Discussing the financial needs of the church's missionary activities, the speaker surprised his listeners with the statement that today Presbyterian missionary work is being carried on among the Jewish population in the big eastern cities. In this connection, he took occasion to pay tribute to the Jewish people, among whom is found the highest type of citizenship, he remarked.

"Those of the Jewish faith, who take their religion seriously, as we observe the Commandments, make some of the best citizens we have," the churchman continued. "But the trouble with the Jews is that, like the Gentiles, they are drifting away from their religion, and are losing their moral moorings," he commented, setting forth the need of missionary work.

STATE RULING IS BOMBSHELL

are neither municipal elections nor special elections and therefore do not come within the class of elections specified in section 1094, in which the 1924 registrations might be used.

Affidavits of Registration.

Concluding his opinion, Webb says: "I know of no other provision of law than such as are herein noted, which permits the use of affidavits of registration made prior to January 1 of an even-numbered year as a means of determining the person entitled to vote at an election held after the 1st day of January and before the 1st day of April of such even-numbered year. It would appear to follow, therefore, that from what has been said, that at a school election held pursuant to section 1593 (which governs school elections) only those electors may vote under section 1593 (which specifies qualifications required of electors) who are regularly registered as a part of the new registration which commenced on the 1st day of January of the even-numbered year in which such election is held, and who were so registered at least 30 days before

Glasgow, Ky.—"I am the mother of seven children, the eldest being only 12 years, and I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to pull me through the roughest places of my married life. At one time I was so downhearted that life was a misery. A friend in Indianapolis, Indiana, told me of the Vegetable Compound, and after taking a few bottles of it I became myself again and it was a pleasure to do my housework and gardening. Since then I always use your medicine when I feel weak from overwork and it straightens me out."

COUNTY WALNUT GROWERS WILL HEAR EXPERTS

New Walnut grading standards, better harvesting methods and the 1926 codling moth control campaign will be discussed by experts at a one-day institute, to be held tomorrow in the Tustin high school auditorium under the auspices of the state agricultural extension service and the Orange County Farm bureau, co-operating with the office of the Orange county farm advisor. Hundreds of walnut growers are expected to assemble at 1:30 p. m. to hear the discussions on the important schedule.

A. J. McFadden, director of the California Walnut Growers' association, will discuss new grading standards.

Prof. A. W. Christie, division of fruit products, state college of agriculture, will discuss more efficient harvesting and handling of walnuts.

Dr. L. D. Batchelor, citrus experiment station, who has just returned from a tour of European walnut-growing sections, will discuss foreign walnut production and competition. He will illustrate his remarks with motion pictures.

J. A. Smiley, chairman of the farm bureau walnut department, will make a report for the codling moth committee, appointed last fall to make recommendations for the control of the pest.

W. B. Hooper, walnut specialist, state college of agriculture, and Harold Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, will discuss the 1926 extension program for better walnuts in Orange county.

BLIND WOMAN, 99, AND SON, 75, LIVE ON $1 DAY

Mrs. Lucinda Yokum, 100, and her "boy," John, 75.

Pension to Widow of Veteran of Mexican War Sustains Life

DAYTON, Calif., March 5.—The west's two most remarkable pioneers live here on $1 a day.

They are Mrs. Lucinda Yokum and her "boy," John.

"I will be 100 years old this autumn, if I live, she says. "But I don't want to live."

She is blind. A dislocated hip causes constant pain, prevents her leaving her bed, prevents her from lying down. She must sit up day and night—awake or asleep. When awake she sways back and forth, back and forth in tiresome monotony.

She toys with a bit of wire on the end of which is tied a rag to chase away flies and mosquitoes.

Mrs. Yokum's companion, nurse, cook and houseboy is her son, John, aged 75.

John is faithful, but there is no woman's hand to rub her aged limbs, to prepare her food, to clean her humble cottage.

John is strong. He could work, but his mother needs constant attention.

"I worry about him every time he is out of my sight," Mrs. Yokum explains.

And so the two—mother and son—live on $1 a day, a pension given by a rich government because Mrs. Yokum's husband was a Mexican war veteran.

"And now my hair is falling out," she says, with a whimsical smile. "I once had beautiful hair."

Aged fingers fumbled with the hair, then with the lavender cap—flustered fingers because of "company."

"I just know this cap looks awful." This in an apologetic tone.

A woman at 100 is a woman nevertheless.

Police News

Frank Lutz, desk sergeant at the police station, returned to his duties today, after a leave of absence of three weeks, during which time he underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

J. M. De Grot, 2113 Orange avenue, reported to police last night that a tire and rim were stolen from his car last night. The machine was parked on Bush street, between Seventh and Eighth streets.

Police were called to 603 East First street last night to search for a "Sleeping Tom." They were unable to locate the man.

Charged with vagrancy, A. Posey, 55, was arrested last night by Officer James Murray. The man was found asleep in a box car.

HOENSHEL WILL CARRY LEAD IN PRESENTATION

Working so quietly until their plans were perfected, that the community scarcely realized another Santa Ana Community Players' production was imminent, the members of the cast of the famous Jerome K. Jerome play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," with their director, Miss Eloise Sterling, today announced that rehearsals have been of almost nightly occurrence for the last two weeks and that all indications promise an unusually smooth and delightful performance on the four successive nights, beginning with March 17.

Supreme in point of interest to the community at large, is the selection of A. Domer Hoenshel, principal of Garden Grove high school, to play the principal role of "The Stranger."

Ability is Remembered

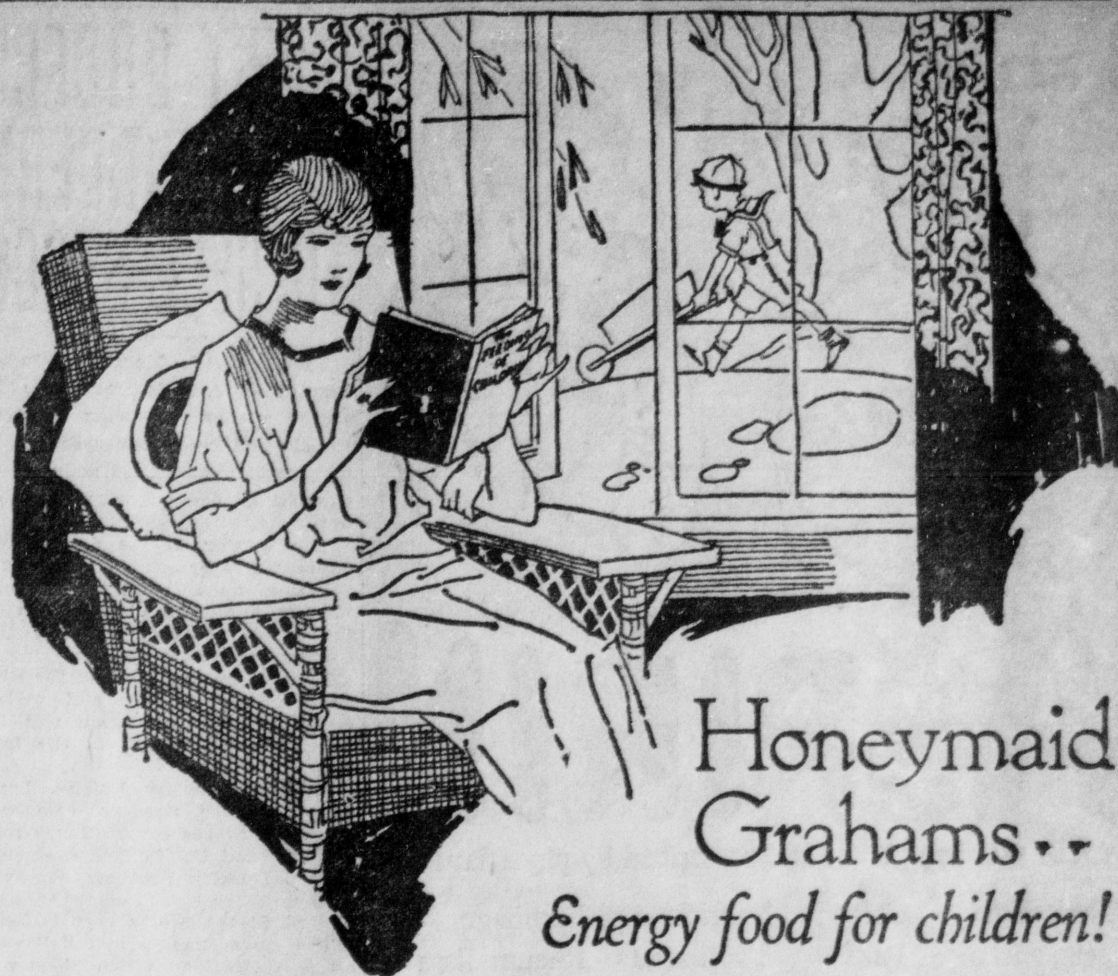

Mr. Hoenshel always will be remembered for the spiritual beauty and strength with which he invested a similar role in "The Stranger in the House," one of the earliest plays ever given by the local group and one that always will remain in the memories of all who saw it as satisfyingly beautiful and artistic.

When plans were first formulated for presenting "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," the minds of the Players immediately leaped to Mr. Hoenshel and he was persuaded to try-out for the part. Miss Sterling enthusiastically agreed with the opinions so warmly expressed and refused to consider any objections on the part of the busy educator. Hence, despite his press of duties in the Garden Grove schools, the principal takes the time to come to nightly rehearsals and his example, coupled with the role enacted so understandingly is constant inspiration to his fellow members of the cast, according to the director.

Opens March 17

"The Passing of the Third Floor Back," like its immediate predecessors, will be staged in the Ebell auditorium, the initial performance to be given on the night of St. Patrick's day. So well-received was the plan instituted at "The Dover Road," of making the balcony of the auditorium at the popular price of 50 cents to students, that it was decided at a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Players, to establish 50 cents as the regular price for balcony seats, regardless of school affiliations.

Most of the rehearsals are being held in the clubhouse, although occasionally, through the week, Miss Sterling takes her cast out to The Barn, where a more informal rehearsal is held.

POST OFFICE AT SEAL BEACH TO BE MOVED SOON

SEAL BEACH, March 5.—The undesirable location of the post office here has resulted in a movement which will cause the removal of the office to a central locality April 1, it was announced today. Permission has been received from the postal department to allow the change, and it now remains only for the citizens to determine the most favorable location.

Two sites have been suggested. One is in a room at the rear of the Seal Beach drug store and the other is in the vacant store room in the O'Connor building. The vacant store room is on both Central avenue and Main street, it is pointed out, and is believed to be the most favorable location. The drug store room faces Central avenue.

Members of the Business Men's club and the chamber of commerce have been working on the project for some time. M. L. Collins and L. C. Benno, of the Business Men's club, and Dr. E. W. Reed, of the chamber of commerce, were appointed to represent their respective organizations in securing the change.

The present location of the office, it is pointed out, is undesirable. The office is not on a paved street and citizens object to walking through dust and mud to get their mail. It is also claimed that the situation of the present office is dangerous as children going after mail have to cross the Pacific Electric railroad tracks. The office is also in an out of the way locality, it is claimed.

WARNING

Pain is the message conveyed to the brain by the nerves, which are the telephone wires of the body. Any undue pressure upon a nerve caused by injury or inflammation in any part will set these wires going and notify the individual that something is wrong. These friendly warnings should be heeded. When pain comes, therefore, we should not try to kill it, but to relieve it by removing the cause.

In order to remove the cause of your pain, sickness or disease, we must first find the location of that cause. This is done by taking an X-Ray picture of the bony segments of the spine where the nerves are subject to undue pressure as they exit through the little openings. These nerves carry all of the nerve force or functional energy received by the heart, lungs, liver, stomach, kidneys, bowels, etc., and by viewing an X-Ray you can see the condition with your own eyes. This assures you that your case is not being guessed at.

Then with our hands alone we adjust these bony segments into their proper position. In this manner health has been permanently restored to hundreds of people suffering with such conditions as heart palpitation, liver trouble, biliousness, stomach and kidney trouble, chronic constipation and uncomfortable diseases which, if neglected, gradually become worse instead of better.

Chiropractic is not a cure-all, nor do we claim it to be such, but we do know that hundreds of sick people have been restored to health by MARTYN FREE X-RAY CHIROPRACTORS after they had become discouraged and about ready to give up hope.

If you are sick, don't say you have tried everything until you have consulted us about your case. For this reason the coupon below will entitle the bearer to a complete spinal examination, and without charge or obligation we will make a standard size X-Ray picture showing the exact cause of your trouble. If you are sick and wish to be well, just clip the coupon below.

Shell Quitclaims Leases at Talbert

TALBERT, March 5.—All hopes of further oil activities in this section by the Shell Oil company were blasted Tuesday, when the first of the leases owned by the company was quitclaimed. The first deed returned to the owner, so far as learned, was to Emil Leirvold for his land on the mesa just west of Talbert.

Rent on most of the local property from leases was to come due March 4 and 5 of this month and the land owners have been waiting that time before they could be positive of the company's intentions.

As the test well, which was on the Von Schiltz ranch was located in the flats, the property owners on the mesa land held out hopes that a tryout for oil might be made there but this faint hope vanishes with the returning of the first of the leases.

ANAHEIM, March 5.—Checks aggregating $65,795.30 are being received this week by Anaheim orange growers as payment for fruit shipped during the January navel season, through local packing houses. It was announced this morning by association officials.

All houses, with the exception of the Anaheim Citrus Fruit association, brought their navel season to a close last of January, a total of 63 cars of the fruit having been put on the rails from this district up to that date.

Three cars, remaining to be shipped in the second pool of the Anaheim Citrus Fruit association, left that house last week, bringing to a close the Anaheim navel season. Payment of this pool will not be made for some weeks, W. H. Schureman, manager of the house, said this morning.

METCALF WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR ELECTION

ANAHEIM, March 5.—E. H. Metcalf, mayor of the city under a former administration, has announced himself as a candidate in the election of city trustees to be held here April 12. Petitions in his favor were filed with the city clerk late yesterday afternoon.

Opening guns in the local campaign were fired Wednesday, when three candidates, endorsed by a large body of local business men and other citizens, announced themselves in the running for the city offices. A. W. Franzen and W. D. Grafton, incumbent trustees, at that time entered the race for re-election and Carl L. Leonard, local business man, announced himself as a candidate for the third vacancy on the board. Incumbent Trustee Godfrey J. Stock has declined to run for re-election.

Prospect of three other candidates making their appearance on the city's political horizon was held out today, when City Clerk E. B. Merritt reported that an unknown man had secured three petition forms, declining to state, however, the names of the prospective candidates.

Seal Beach Pet Killed By Assassin

SEAL BEACH, March 5.—An assassin's bullet took the life of Pol Parrot, a pet in the Jack Ryan home for 15 years, when a second shot was fired Wednesday from an unknown source.

The first stung across Polly's toes snipping them off and the bird was nursing the injured members when Mrs. Ryan went out to investigate the cause of the outcry.

A moment later, another scream of pain was heard and Polly lay dead in her cage.

S. D. WINTERS NOT SCHOOL CANDIDATE

ANAHEIM, March 5.—S. D. Winters, a member of the Anaheim union high school board of trustees since the organization of the union district, 15 years ago, today declined to announce his candidacy for re-election and, instead, endorsed Henry Ramm, prominent rancher of this section, to succeed him. Mr. Winters has been president of the board for the past three years. Mr. Ramm is now circulating his nominating petition which he expects to file with the board within the next few days.

Mr. Ramm is well known in this city, having been a resident for some years. He is a director of the Magnolia grammar school and is a member of the Anaheim Y. M. C. A. board of directors. No other candidate has yet been announced for the vacancy. Elections are to be held March 28.

Mr. Heaston is just out of the hospital, where he had one finger amputated. The trouble started over a year ago when he ran a silver into his hand. Blood poisoning set in at that time and for weeks he was in a serious condition at the hospital and for a time it was thought the removal of the entire hand would be necessary.

Dismiss Check Forgery Charge

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 5.—A charge of forgery lodged against Miss Metta Aguirre, 25, former resident of this city, was withdrawn yesterday when Leonard Aguirre, whose name she signed to a check, declared that he had given his cousin permission to sign his name to checks.

Miss Aguirre was arrested recently at Bakersfield.

A warrant for her arrest was sworn out by J. A. Severson, manager of the Obarr drug store here, when he received a $5 check which the bank refused to honor. Miss Aguirre was released in Bakersfield on her own recognizance.

Leonard Aguirre straightened out the tangle when he explained he had given his cousin permission to sign his name to checks.

Youth Escapes Injury In Fall

ORANGE, March 5.—Outside of a prominent lump on the head, Harold Moody, 14, intermediate school student, today was suffering no ill effects from a fall from a horizontal bar on the school grounds Wednesday.

Moody, an unusually heavy lad for his age, accidentally fell from the bar while performing acrobatic stunts. He fell heavily to the ground, a distance of some six feet, landing on his head and shoulders.

The fall temporarily stunned the lad, who was hurried to the office of a local physician. An examination showed that he had suffered no serious injuries, beyond a swelling on the head where he came in contact with the ground.

A shudder ran down the spinal columns of many persons living in one of the Cleveland suburbs when they noticed a funeral wreath hung up behind the "You're next" sign behind the window of the local barber shop.

RICKARD AFTER O. K. FOR BIG RING CONTEST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, March 5.—Permission to proceed with arrangements for a heavyweight championship match between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney is expected to be asked by Tex Rickard at today's meeting of the Boxing commission.

Through his matchmaker, Jess McMahon, Rickard is expected to give the commission his reasons for knowing a match between Dempsey and Harry Wills, the recognized challenger, cannot be made.

He also will suggest that Wills has forfeited his standing as the first ranking challenger by signing an agreement with Floyd Fitzsimmons, Chicago promoter, against the orders of the commission and that he has lost prestige by his refusal to accept matches with any capable opponents.

Rickard tried to make a match between Wills and Tunney, but the negro refused.

The New York promoter cannot disclose any of his plan concerning the champion without making himself liable to a forfeiture of his license, but it is reported on good authority that he already has signed Tunney and that Dempsey has given him assurance he will accept terms on a percentage basis as soon as he is able to get square with the commission.

It will be up to Rickard to get Dempsey off the New York ineligible list but if the commission refuses to change its attitude he will stage the bout in Jersey City late in August.

Dempsey said when he was here a few days ago that he would return to New York next month after a business trip to Los Angeles and that he would see what he could do to get himself back in good standing.

THIS MAN HAS MET EVERY PRESIDENT SINCE LINCOLN

GEN. SHERIDAN ORDERS SCANLON TO THROW WINE OUT OF WINDOW

LINCOLN CHATS WITH SCANLON
DURING BOYHOOD

Michael Scanlon, in 1887 and today.

Proprietor of Washington Billiard Saloon Is In Reminiscent Mood

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Michael Scanlon has run a billiard saloon in Washington for 62 years.

"From Lincoln on down," he said, "I've shaken the hand of every man ever elected president, excepting only Samuel J. Tilden's."

"I said every man ever ELECTED president," replied the veteran.

Veteran is right, in more ways than one.

Scanlon had just been mustered out of General Grant's army, at the Civil war's end, when he opened his place in the capital.

"A great man was Grant," he observed.

"See, here's his billiard cue."

He lifted it from the rack and exhibited it, with the initials "G." ornately carved on the butt, just as the general laid it down, after the last game he ever played in "Scanlon's billiard parlor."

Grant Good Player.

"He was a good player, too," continued Scanlon. "I installed a table for him at the White House. It cost $1100, which was a lot of money in those days."

"I suppose you know Grant was a Democrat, though the Democrats, by mistake, as usual, let the Republicans nominate him for president."

"He didn't like to be called 'president,' though. He preferred the title of 'general.'"

"Grant was a kindly man," Scanlon said, "and very democratic, besides being a Democrat."

"So was Lincoln. He'd often stop on the street for a chat with some little boy, such as I was then, and always gave him a pat on the head, as he left him."

"But Washington was livelier during Grant's two terms than ever it had been before or has been since. It was full of the general's war friends, like Phil Sheridan, and they kept things moving."

Sheridan and Friends Arrive.
"One midnight, just as I'd closed up," related the old-timer, "Sheridan and some of his friends called and made me let them in."

"They called for wine and I served it. But just as they were lifting their glasses, 'What kind of whiskey have you?' asked Sheridan."

"Just your kind, I think," I answered.

"What is it?"

"Old Stag."

"Throw that wine out of the window," said Phil. "We'll drink Old Stag whiskey."

"John L. Sullivan," recalled Scanlon, "was a good customer of mine and a family friend, too. No better hearted man ever lived. About 208 pounds was his fighting weight. He was 232 when he met Sorbett—no condition! Corbett's fair enough to say so."

"I went in a bit for sports myself. I was on the National Baseball League board of directors in 1887."

EXTENSION OF FOREIGN TRADE IS EMPHASIZED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—"Experience has convinced us that better understandings between nations can best be brought about through acquaintance in commercial channels," William Pigott, Seattle steel manufacturer, told the Pacific Foreign Trade Council, in session here, Pigott is president of the council.

"The problems of international relations and adjustments are so tremendous that Americans as individuals and the nation as a whole cannot succeed unless there is behind them an enlightened public opinion and the co-operation of their government," Pigott said.

Scores of delegates of the council were present from Alaska, British Columbia, Idaho, Washington, Montana, Wyoming, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and Hawaii.

Growth of Pacific Trade
The foreign trade of only part of this area—the Pacific coast states alone—amounted to approximately $1,000,000,000 in 1925, Pigott said, as compared with but $130,000,000 in 1909.

Ralph Merritt, Fresno, president of the Sun Mad Raisin Growers' association, urged the need of developing foreign markets for Pacific agricultural products as a key to the prosperity of the entire region. Vast areas on the Pacific coast await agricultural development, he pointed out, and then continued:

"We must not be unmindful of the fact that, in many of our major agricultural industries, we have, during the past six years faced an over-saturation of markets. The year 1926 promises to be the first since 1920 when surpluses in many lines have been cleared up."

Outlet for Foreign Countries
Merritt pointed out the possibility of expanding the domestic market in this country for many of the agricultural "specialties" on the Pacific coast, but said "we must look to foreign markets for an increased outlet of Pacific coast agricultural products. As in the program for increasing consumption at home, we must approach the problem of foreign consumption with an appreciation of the necessity of meeting the requirements of the buyer and developing markets by constructive action."

Merritt said it was necessary to be ever mindful that confidence of foreign buyers must be maintained and that exporters must be willing to meet conditions, political and economic, in the foreign field.

Marshall N. Dana, Portland newspaper man, who is considered a likely candidate for the pending shipping board appointment, said the development of inland waterways was important to the development of ports which they would feed. He said:

Plea For More Waterways.
"There is competent authority for the statement that 25 years hence, at the present rate of national growth, we will have 40,000,000 more people the freight tonnage will be double its present volume the existing railroad service will be incapable of transporting the food and fuel needed for the people, and the adequate waterways extensions may be made for a third to a fourth less than an equivalent carrying capacity by rail."

A. F. Hines, vice president of the Admiral Oriental line, Seattle, spoke of the bearing of steamship facilities on the foreign trade of the Pacific coast.

"With direct steamship service to all seas and to the commercially prominent countries of the world," he said, "there is foundation for the conclusion that the world is the logical market for the Pacific. Pacific coast port schedules show that shipping lines serve 75 countries and 260 ports."

MEN BLAMED FOR WOMEN'S STYLES

ROME, March 5.—Lenten preachers and parish priests have been advised by Pope Pius, in a private audience, to preach, during Lent, on modesty in women's dress to men, as well as to women, as it has been borne in on him by a small incident that men are to blame for the present modes.

The incident occurred in Hungary, where, at a mass meeting, the men deplored the women's dress. The women's reply was succinct. Women's dress is governed entirely by men, as the vast majority of women dress to please the men, they said. Hence all Christians in Lent should be admonished to change the present extreme styles, the Pope said.

Norway, Britain Can't Agree on Fishing Rights

LONDON, March 6.—The discussions between the British and Norwegian governments on fishing rights in territorial waters in the North sea, which have been in progress since 1924, have been suspended, no agreement having been reached. Norway asked that territorial waters should extend for four miles from the coast, but Great Britain contended that the limit should be three miles, as agreed in the North sea convention.

"I Felt Fine"

HOW SHE found relief from troubles that caused her great pain and misery is told below by Mrs. Charles L. Lacroix, of Montgomery, La., whose picture is printed above.

"I was in a dreadfully run-down condition," says Mrs. Lacroix. "I suffered a great deal of pain. I was in misery all over. I could not sit up and I could not lie down. I couldn't sleep and at times I would have dreadful vomiting spells. The aches and pains seemed to cover my whole body. This was caused by some female disorder, I knew."

"I had taken Cardui off and on since 1903. It had always done me good, so when I got in this bad condition, I thought I would take it again."

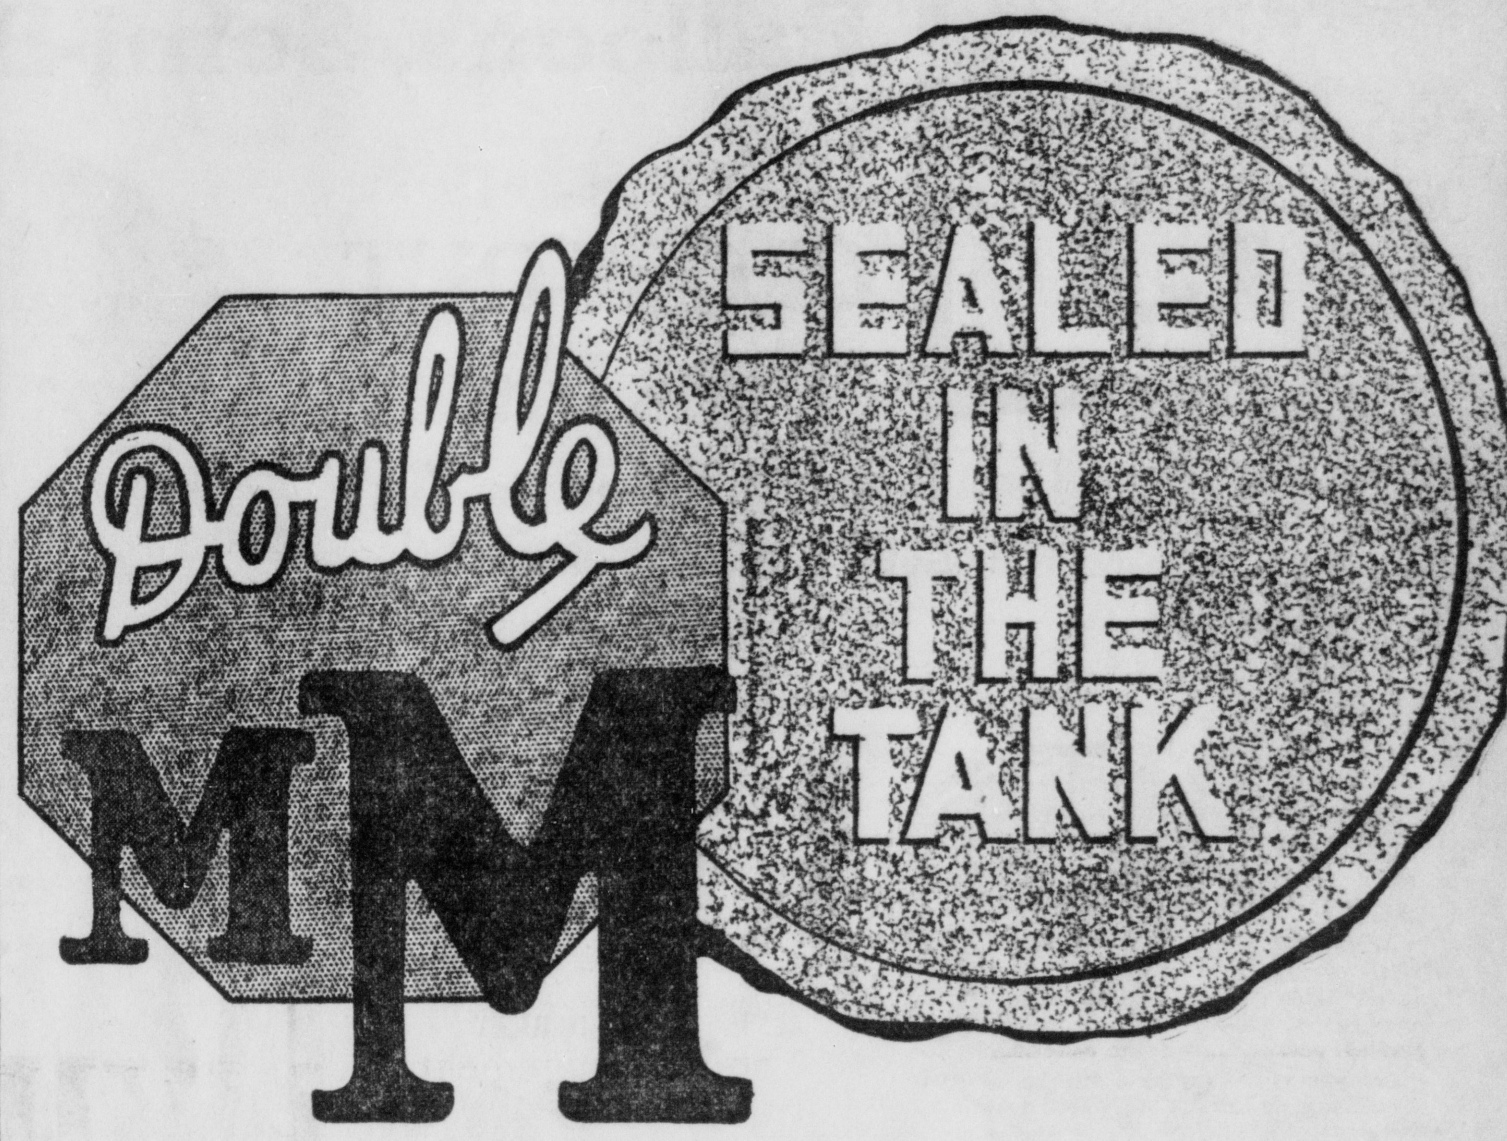

"One night my husband brought me home six bottles of Cardui and I began to take it. I could tell that I was improving from the first bottle, but I kept on taking the medicine, for I knew that I needed a tonic that would build me up and strengthen me where I was weak and run-down. That is exactly what Cardui did for me. After I had finished the sixth bottle I felt fine and I have never had any female trouble since."

"I feel truly thankful for what Cardui has done for me, for I could not have gone on living in the desperate condition I was in."

Made from purely vegetable ingredients in modern scientific laboratories, Cardui is absolutely safe and harmless. It has helped so many thousands of other women, it should help you too, if you suffer from female troubles. Get a bottle, today.

a voluntary action taken by Independent Service—Station Owners handling Macmillan Gasoline .....

INDEPENDENT Service Station Owners, selling Macmillan Gasoline, have voluntarily permitted the official Macmillan seal to be placed on their storage tanks. They want you to know that when you say, "Fill 'er up with Macmillan," that you're getting just what you ask for—a superior motor fuel which does give you more mileage.

Bonded drivers of the Macmillan Petroleum Products Company are the only persons permitted to break these seals. Every seal bears a registered serial number and they are replaced daily when the dealers' supply of Macmillan is replenished. The seals lock themselves when placed on the tank and must be broken before the tank can be reopened.

When you buy Macmillan, you now have a positive assurance that it is the same high grade, carefully refined, motor fuel that it was when it left our refinery—free from any foreign substances and impossible for anyone to alter in any way.

Ask any Macmillan Service Station Operator to see the seal—then buy your gasoline with absolute confidence.

Harry D. Riley Says:—

Friends and Patrons—I have caused to be printed in this space over my signature an honest "heart to heart" message which I want you to read.

I have, as you all know, been successfully engaged for several years in the distribution of Studebaker Automobiles in Northern Orange County, and, due to your kind patronage this business has expanded by leaps and bounds, and today I am the Studebaker distributor for all Orange County, with Sales and Display Rooms at Anaheim, Santa Ana and Orange. This expansion demands vastly more capital in order to properly carry out the Studebaker policy of one hundred percent service.

In order to obtain this additional capital I have, after deliberating for some time, decided to relinquish my agency as Orange County wholesale distributor for C-T-C Tires and Tubes, and dispose of the entire stock even though it brings me but a small amount on the dollar of wholesale costs.

In doing so, I realize that there are hundreds of dealers in this country handling good tires who are progressive and up-to-date in order to sell this stock quickly I realize I must so undersell these dealers, but I must so draw people to this sale from many miles in. I RE-USE the condition of their lib- go—the mobile. ly on its of being Asst. sincerely sale and my appreciation of your past favors and have the pleasure of seeing you at the my personal attention, I am, Dependably yours,

NATIVE BIRTH RATE DECREASE IS EXPLAINED

"Children born of native born Americans, future citizens, called upon to maintain, support and, perhaps, fight for American traditions and institutions, are the nation's greatest assets. And this fact should receive proper recognition at the hands of every legislator, whether he serves in congress, in the state legislature, on the county board of supervisors or in the city council chamber."

This was the opinion expressed by Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, president of the P.-T. A., in voicing her approval of the views expressed a few days ago by Dr. Marjorie Bertola, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs, to the effect that the high cost of maternity in this country is depleting American homes, and that the privilege of children is reserved to the type of the foreign-born father and mother, who are not averse to avail themselves of charity.

Dr. Bertola, who recently visited Santa Ana on a speaking trip, is well known here, where she has a large number of friends and supporters among local clubwomen.

Foreign Parents Aided
According to Mrs. Spangler, it is somewhat inconsistent to talk about Americanization, to spend the taxpayers' money for night schools and training of foreign-born adults, and then, when, at the same time, we, through our social agencies, are putting everything in the way of the birth of American children of American parents. Yet, at the same time, our public institutions take care of the foreign-born mother free of charge when she cannot afford to pay for hospitalization and doctor's services.

While the average young American couple, marrying on a small income, cannot afford to bring one child in the world without going into debt, the Mexican or some other foreign-born mother, in many instances, depending upon public charity to meet financial problems, as they arise, has no hesitancy in bringing up a large family, the P.-T. A. official explained.

As a result, she continued, the birth rate among native born Americans is dwindling down to almost nothing, while that of the foreign born, including a distinctly un-American type, according to our standards, is increasing in proportion.

Question Future of Race
"The point is well stated by Dr. Bertola, when she questions the future of the old-time American race unless measures are being taken to increase the birth rate in American homes. America, the land of the Pilgrims, will be ruled by others than old stock Americans."

Mrs. Spangler suggested that all hospitals should have children's and maternity wards, where young mothers could be children at a very reasonable cost. The financial arrangements should be handled in such way as to relieve embarrassment or even a hint of charity. "Young couples do not want charity, but neither do they want to go heavily in debt to shoulder the financial burden incidental to parenthood," she concluded.

COMPANY BEGINS BEET ACTIVITY

TALBERT, March 5.—The first beet planted in the Talbert district this season were by the Anahelm Sugar Company, which has considerable acreage in on the former Borchard land, where preparations to plant the entire acreage is under way.

Some beets, but not many, will be planted in this section this year, it is said.

Ranchers who will raise peppers this season are making final preparations for planting and the majority of them will commence planting this week.

Every team and tractor in the community is kept busy preparing ground for one crop or another and some ranchers still continue irrigating for beets and beans.

As usual, March brings in the busiest season of the year for all the ranchers.

"We know not what insurmountable barriers Captain Wilkins and his brave band must face—that cannot be foreseen; but we do know that they shall have in their race to place this country's colors at the pole, every possible aid, supplies and equipment of proved quality—the finest of everything to be had."

A RACE of the nations! Into the desolate icy wastes of the Arctic... a 1900 mile non-stop flight to place our flag beyond the pole!

Unexplored, uncharted, its ice-bound regions may hold the answer to many of science's problems. With the rapid growth and certain future of commercial aviation, accurate knowledge of its area becomes increasingly important. If land exists, its strategic value to the nation by whom it is discovered is tremendous!

Intrepid explorers have many times breasted its frozen barriers only to realize failure... often death. Today, expeditions from other nations are again being organized to explore and claim for their country any land discovered.

The Detroit Arctic Expedition, commanded by Captain Wilkins and carrying the American flag, has already embarked in this polar race of the nations. Recognized by President Coolidge, endorsed and aided by the American Geographical Society and sponsored by the Detroit Aviation Society whose officers and directors include such famous men as William B. Mayo, Edsel B. Ford, Howard Coffin, Charles T. Bush, E. LeRoy Pelletier, William E. Scripps and many of the most distinguished men of America... this expedition will claim in the name of the United States all lands discovered.

Richfield Oil Co.,

Gentlemen:

I have been instructed by the Board of Control of the Detroit Arctic Expedition to inform you that our engineers selected Richfield gasoline because they believed it would best fulfill the purpose that we have in mind.

As you know, the success or failure of such an expedition depends largely upon the quality of the lubrication and fuel that is used in the engine. A non-stop flight of 1900 miles is a difficult undertaking under the most favorable conditions, let alone attempting it over dangerous polar seas.

After an exhaustive study of the various gasolines available, we selected your product as the best suitable for our purposes.

Captain Wilkins will keep you informed as he results obtained from your fuel on the flight.

Sincerely yours,
H. H. Burch,
Assistant Manager.

bility of chance eliminated; and with the success of the most hazardous undertaking of the century at stake, these men have selected Richfield to fuel the planes in their final 1900 mile non-stop flight over desolate polar seas.

"After an exhaustive study of the various gasolines available, we selected your product as the most suitable for our purposes."

BOARD OF CONTROL
DETROIT ARCTIC EXPEDITION

Twenty words that mean more than every adjective in the dictionary. With the ability to use any gasoline made; with the necessity of securing a gasoline that would deliver the utmost in power, speed and mileage combined, that would prove unfailing in every crisis... they pinned their faith in Richfield! No matter what obstacles must be overcome, they know their gasoline will never fail.

The selection of California's famous "Gasoline of Power" by such men is a tribute in which every Westerner can share. To the Richfield Oil Company it is added recognition of a quality that has proved itself year after year under the most gruelling conditions... recognition too, of the many years of experiment and research; of ceaseless care and skill in selection and grading; of pride that insists their product must always be the finest obtainable.

Winter or summer, rain or shine, whenever or wherever you go, the blue and gold Richfield shield is your assurance of the utmost that any gasoline can give... easier starting, speed, power and mileage combined!

"Snooks," a pet bulldog owned by Edward Frank, of Memphis, Tenn., got his master into a lawsuit—and then got him out again. Frank was sued for $5000 by a neighbor, who claimed the dog had bitten the neighbor's boy. The dog was malicious, he charged. Frank replied that the dog bit the boy because the boy had hit him with a stick, and to prove the dog was not of an ugly disposition, led him before the jury. "Snooks" wagged his tail, the jury grinned—and Frank won the verdict.

THREE SCHOOLS IN MEET HERE TOMORROW

BREA, IRVINE FINISH TITLE SERIES SUNDAY

Sunday's Games.
Brea at Irvine.
Van Dien-Youngs at Costa Mesa.
Corona Red Sox at Laguna Beach.
Shields Paint company at Westminster.

Almost back on the throne they held so long, Irvine's Beapickers will attempt to make their reconquest complete Sunday afternoon when they meet Brea, their closest competitors for the Orange county baseball championship, in the third and deciding contest of a three-game series. This joust will be played at Irvine park and will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

Playing on its home plot, Brea defeated the Beapickers, 3 to 2, in 10 innings, two weeks ago but Irvine came back strongly last Sunday, hammering little "Red" Billman to the showers and evening the series count with an 8 to 5 victory.

Salveson to Twirl.
It is probable that the same pitcher will start the championship joust. Herb Salveson has been in a pair of fine games for the Beapickers and he is virtually certain to get the nod again. Billman was the victim of wretched support in his last ridge assignment and he probably will take this last fling at the club from which he once earned his beans and butter.

The Brea-Irvine tiff, while possibly the most colorful, will not be the only interesting contest on the Sabbath card in South Orange county. Three other scuffles have been scheduled so fandom will be well taken care of this week.

Fast Game at Mesa
Emerging from two decisive victories over the Shields Painters of Santa Ana, the reorganized Costa Mesa club will be pitted against the fast Van Dien-Young team of this city which copped the championship of the 1925-6 Orange County Harbor league. These clubs will middle at Costa Mesa.

The Corona Red Sox was fast enough to take the measure of the Van Dien-Youngs several weeks back and they are going to invade this section again Sunday with the expectation of humbling the Laguna Beach Cavedwellers another powerful Orange county ensemble. While Rangel will be on the hill for the Cavemen and it may be his last start here this winter for he is booked to depart soon for Tulsa where he will endeavor to gain a regular job with the Western leaguers.

Westminster and the Shields Painters collide at Westminster.

S. A. CHAFFEY AND FULLERTON SQUADS ENTER

Coach Harris Confident of Victory; Vawter to Have Competition in Grinds

With a fast track promised, the Santa Ana junior college cinder path athletes will swing into action in a three cornered meet against Chaffey and Fullerton junior colleges here tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. The meet will be held on the Santa Ana high school track.

Some good marks are expected. The affair will be the first in which the local collegians will be matched against teams of the Southern California junior college conference.

Coach Graham Harris today predicted that Santa Ana would come near collecting more points than the combined Chaffey and Fullerton squads. This year the locals probably have the best team in the history of the college.

Bob Vawter, crack Santa Ana miler, will have to beat Usher, Chaffey star distance man, to the tape in the long grind. This race should be the day's feature. Other events are expected to call forth some thrilling battles. The relay, especially, appears to be anybody's race.

So far as is known neither Fullerton nor Chaffey has a sprinter of the class of Al Claves, the speedy Santa Ana, who has been clocked in 10 seconds flat in the 100 already this year. Claves is expected to break the tape in both the century and the furlong.

During the last week, Coach Harris has been drilling his athletes in their events so that they have now passed the early season disasters of sore and stiff muscles. In all the events, point winners will be entered and a good margin of victory is expected for the Santa Ana squad.

POLY SQUAD CRIPPLED FOR FULLERTON MEET

Three of Coach Walter Scott's premier tracksters—Captain Howard Paul, star broad jumper, sprinter and low hurdler; Harold English, sprinter, and "Pete" Twist, quarter-miler, were not in suit this afternoon when the Santa Ana high school team went against its old rival, Fullerton, at Fullerton this afternoon.

Paul is suffering from a pulled tendon and will be lost to his team for two more weeks. English also has a bad leg while Twist is on the shelf with a vaccination that "took." Despite the loss of these three point winners, Coach Scott was confident his team would give its opponents a close meet.

George Godfrey Will Appear In Movies As Chef

HOLLYWOOD, March 5.—George Godfrey, colored contender for Jack Dempsey's heavyweight crown, signed a contract today to appear in motion pictures for four months. The colored pugilist will be cast as a chef in a sea picture, and is to receive $200 weekly for his services.

The negro received a wire from his manager, James Dougherty, of Leipsville, Pa., upbraiding him for turning actor. "Get off your feet and get out of that m-vie lot," wired Dougherty. "We have too many actors in the movies now."

The events in each division follows: Juniors—50 yard dash; running broad jump; cinder throw; high jump and 440 yard relay with eight boys; intermediates—50 yard dash, running broad jump, basketball throw, high jump and 440 yard relay with six boys; seniors—75 yard dash, running broad jump, 3-pound shot put, high jump and 440 yard relay with six boys.

LOCALS NOT TO FIGHT VERDICT COSTING TITLE

No action will be taken by Santa Ana high school to have the case of the eligibility of William Harmon, substitute forward on the champion Class C basketball team, brought up to a hearing before the representatives of the Coast Preparatory league in an effort to give the Santa Ana midgets a nominal title.

This stand was announced today by D. K. Hammond, principal, after the suggestion was made that the case be reviewed in the interests of fairness.

All the games in which Harmon participated were today declared forfeited and the championship of the Coast preparatory league was relinquished. Glendale, second place winner, will get the title.

The ineligibility of Harmon was due to an overrating of his exponents. Instead of being classified in the "B" division, he was given a "C" standing, through a clerical error.

Coach Walter Scott, "C" mentor, today disbanded his team. After having gone through a season during which they established a perfect record of 18 wins, the "little men" had their chances for the Southern California title snatched away in one fell swoop.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Prices for tickets to the "big three" football games have been increased to provide more money for the extension of the "athletics for all" scheme. Alumni who were able to get tickets last year for $3 must pay $5 on the new scale, but under graduates who are assessed $3 last year will have to pay only $2 in the future.

RENE LACOSTE

Here's the new indoor tennis champ. He won the honors after sweeping through a field which included such famous stars as Bill Tilden and Vincent Richards, finally whipping the defending titleholder, Jean Borotra, in a hectic struggle. Lacoste looms as a most threatening menace to America's regime in the court pastime.

WEIR TO COACH LINCOLN, Neb., March 5.—Ed Weir, Nebraska's all-American tackle, will essay to teach others how to play the line next fall, it was announced. Weir will aid Coach Berg as a line mentor.

DALEY'S STICK WORK FEATURES POLY VICTORY

Coach Lyman Kidman's Santa Ana high school nine defeated the Tustin high school baseball team, 9 to 3, in a practice match at Poly field yesterday.

Floyd Rister, local southpaw, cut the visitors short on hits, allowing only three during the six inning embroglio. Alfonso Thierly, Tustin third baseman, made two of the safeties.

The early season practices are testing the Poly candidates and Coach Kidman is beginning to get an idea as to where his men work best. Nearly 50 players now are trying for the team and it looks good for the season's prospects.

Captain Ed Daley continued his heavy hitting which has been a feature of the games this week. He rapped a home run in the first frame of the Tustin game and slammed safe blows two other times.

So far in the early season matches, Santa Ana has not met a defeat on the diamond although a 7 to 7 tie was the best terms that could be made with Garden Grove. The box score:

C-C. BOWLING HOUSE TO OPEN ON TOMORROW

Contests for local players with many lucrative awards and the appearance of the nationally known Harold Lloyd Major league team of Los Angeles will feature the program for the formal opening here tomorrow night of the C. and C. bowling parlors, formerly the A. and B. alleys.

In addition, the O. A. Haley Inn and the Santa Ana Register teams of the Southern California Mercantile league will hook up in their postponed match game, according to Jack Comey and W. H. Chapman, new proprietors.

Considerable has been expended in remodeling the recreation, two of the alleys having been resurfaced and two shellacked. A reading room has been equipped with floor lamps and easy chairs. The entire house has been repainted within.

The Harold Lloyd quintette, champions of the Major league, will meet a picked team of Santa Anans. Prizes donated by local business firms will be distributed to local men who turn in the highest game for the evening, have high series, make the most spares and for various other outstanding records.

The list of awards include a 5-pound box of candy by the Roehm-Sylvester company; box of cigars by the Roehm-Sylvester company; a pair of bowling shoes by the Miles Shoe company; a silk shirt and a tie by Besser's Toggery; a bottle of perfume by the Givens-Cannon pharmacy and an order for cleaning and pressing by the Royal Cleaners.

CUBS, ANGELS OPEN B. B. SEASON TODAY

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—The Chicago Cubs put on their land legs again here today after their sea voyage from the training camp on Catalina island and were ready to meet the Los Angeles Pacific Coast league team in the first real baseball game of the season here this afternoon.

Bush and Blake will probably carry the brunt of the pitching for the Cubs while Phillips and Sanders will probably work from the slab for the Angels, it was indicated.

BASEBALL MEN AT J. C. HOLD FIRST WORKOUT

Answering the season's initial call for baseball, twelve athletes have reported for the Santa Ana junior college team and have begun practice by knocking the horseshoe about the old lot.

Forecasts for a good season were being made today due to the interest that is being taken in the national sport. Although few veterans have returned, capable candidates from prep schools will be on hand for the team positions.

Among those who are out for practice or who intend to turn out at the close of the track season are Wallace Green, Lawrence Minge, Henrik Van Rensselaer, Milton Chaffee, Maurice Van Dyke, Arnold Ramirez, Gardner Waters, Everett Lutz, John Lutz, Frank Luchter, Adeline McLane and Herbert Thersole.

A critical need this year is for mound recruits. Coach Graham Harris may have to develop a chucker because none of the men reporting have ever had previous experience on the knoll.

Everaside, Pasadena, Fullerton and possibly Pomona will be the opponents of Santa Ana in the Southern California junior college baseball circuit this year. The schedule of games has not been arranged.

Coach Harris does not intend to stress baseball until the close of the track season in order that the two sports will not conflict in their demands on the athletes. By the early part of April, serious practice will be undertaken, Harris says.

ORANGE LIGHTIES IN FIRST PLAYOFF TILT

Coach M. J. Berg of Orange high school was to send his Orange county lightweight championship basketball five onto the court in the newly completed Orange gym this afternoon to wrestle for the right to continue in the running for the Southern California title with the lightweights of Grossmont high school.

The added attraction of a championship game in a new building was expected to pack the bleachers to their full capacity of 550 persons.

Eddie Helser, "Conny" Carvajal, Harvey Pease, Clyde Feldner and Captain Alvin Edwards were on edge for the combat, and if they showed the same degree of perfection as displayed in former games the Orangemen were hoped to take the struggle.

Both teams were undefeated so far this season.

Tunney, Stribling Training for Bout

Iron Man of Yanks To Play With Pale Hose This Summer

EVERETT SCOTT

Baseball's famous "iron man" will not be missing from major league environs this season, as has been taken for granted following announcement he had retired. Instead the fellow that hung up an untold record by playing in 1307 consecutive games will cavort in a Chicago White Sox suit in 1926. Scott was recently taken on by Manager Eddie Collins and may take the shortstop's position in the battlefield at various times.

HOLD GRAMMAR SCHOOL TRACK MEET MARCH 27

The annual Orange county grammar school track and field meet for 1926 will be held March 27 at the Santa Ana high school oval, it was announced here today.

Schools entered in the affair this season include Frances E. Willard and Julia C. Lathrop junior high schools of Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Tustin, Orange and Anaheim.

Three divisions will be entered by each school—juniors, intermediates and seniors. One boy is qualified to participate in three events besides the relay. There will be an individual honor ribbon for the high point winner in each class. Ribbons also will be given winners of the first four places in each event.

Although Frances E. Willard junior high school was forced to take an undesirable place in the "meet" last year it is expected to furnish some competition in this year's classic. Julia C. Lathrop junior high school, winner of the meet for the last two years, probably will be a strong contender again this season.

Had Benjamin Franklin been a grocer, he would in all likelihood have said:

"Poor Baking Powder won't make good biscuits."

(Use Royal.)

"One cent's worth of poor vinegar will ruin a fifty-cent salad."

(Get Heinz or Oak Glen Vinegar.)

"Extracts make or break the cake."

(Get Ben Hur.)

"The only insurance with no premiums to pay—is Safeway Food Insurance."

"Takes just a teaspoon of inferior oil to spoil a salad dressing."

Do you know that Safeway Olive Oil is imported from Italy, in original containers, in tin, and goes to you the same splendid Virgin Olive Oil that leaves the Italian presses. The pint tin 49c; the quart tin 89c. What good reason is there for paying $1.25 to $1.50 a quart bottle for a similar grade?

Scouting to the Safeway for mother is fun; not the least part of it—the feeling of responsibility;—of grown-up-ness. Youngsters enjoy the friendly, interested attitude of Safeway men. And parents have the feeling that they will be given just what is wanted—at the correct price.

Can you imagine more perfect weather;—days so delightful! Let's oil up the bus and get out in the open. Let's not mar mother's pleasure by having her trouble to prepare the outing lunch. There's a Safeway handy, with lots and lots of things in package, tin or glass—for just these occasions.

Why Do I Want More of Our Customers to Become Owners of Daley's Incorporated?

For much the same reason that we want every employee in the service of Daley's Incorporated to become a holder of our preferred stock.

Nothing pays so well as taking employees and the public into partnership. One of the reasons you receive more prompt and courteous treatment in a Daley's Store is because the man serving you feels the pride and responsibility of being something more than a salaried employee.

For instance, you a Daley's customer, buy some of its preferred stock, and thereby become a part owner; you now feel more at home, buying in a grocery in which you have an owner's interest. You take an interest in everything going on. If you notice some lapse in courtesy or in the standard of cleanliness in any of Daley's Grocery Stores, you report it at once to the management. You will probably be giving us some idea of how a little improvement might be made, as others of our customer-stockholders have done.

You become a messenger of good will. While previously you would tell a good friend occasionally of the good things you get to eat at Daley's Stores, you now, as an owner, would naturally go out of your way to spread the good news of better food. Your interest brings Daley's more and more business, because it is bringing business to yourself. You are not satisfied unless other customers are satisfied, and that spirit helps us in pleasing the millions of people whom we serve in a year.

If you are interested in how Chain Stores have been successful, please write for a copy of our booklet, or telephone Faber 3080, and leave your name and address with the phone girl, and we will send you a copy of "In Partnership With the Public."

"KERNELS" BY THE COLONEL

The Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber have just elected their new presidents. Both, doubtless, are anxious to do something for Santa Ana.

Why not start to work on some plan whereby Pacific Electric street cars could meet Santa Fe trains coming into Santa Ana?

There are two day trains and two night trains on the San Diego-Los Angeles Santa Fe that stop here every twenty-four hours and discharge passengers. These passengers naturally want to come down town, and only once in the four times do they have street car service, and this is after they wait for fourteen minutes.

One train arrives here at 3:35 p. m. In order to come down town from the station, passengers getting off here have to wait for a street car until 4:29 p. m. One car earlier, leaves at 3:29 p. m. Another train discharges passengers here at 7:40 p. m. The next street car leaving the station for downtown after that time, is at 8:04 p. m.

Trying to get this change may prove as hard as getting badges for the police force, but we get nothing without trying, y'know.

Los Angeles and its new city jail seem to be getting their share of the RAZZBERRY at the present time—probably justly, but at the same time, we think the prisoners when they are at first admitted, should be told that they should not run away.

Many times, jailers just throw a prisoner in jail and never warn him about anything. A word to the wise might be sufficient.

Or why not put the prisoners on the honor system and make them sign a pledge that they will not run away?

RABBIT GRASS PROPOSED FOR RUBBER MAKING—headline in Register. Wonder if that has anything to do with the hunk of rubber that is now being served in some restaurants as rabbit?

For the benefit of candidates seeking county offices who think they might be the fictitious J. McGoofus McWhistle, Mr. McWhistle stated today that he did not care to be measured with any of them. "I am an individual, the like of which has not been seen on this domain. I copy after no man—but of course, if candidates copy after me, that is not my fault," he said.

Today's booby prize goes to the member of the senior chamber of commerce, who, when he was nominated for second vice president, immediately seconded the nomination. BUT HE WAS ELECTED ANYWAY.

BURGLARS WORK TWO HOURS; GET ONE CENT—headline in the Register. At that, there wasn't much in it for the time-keeper, whoever he was.

SEEK TO COMPEL SALE OF PROPERTY

Seeking to compel M. Belle Stover, of Los Angeles, to sell them certain property in Huntington Beach, as they claim she agreed to do, L. W. Frankley and L. M. Andrews today had a suit on file in superior court demanding "specific performance" of the asserted agreement.

Attorney Joseph O. Spray, Los Angeles, represents them. The defendant, it is alleged, listed the property for sale with the United Realty and Finance company, of Huntington Beach, and subsequently a deal was arranged with the plaintiffs, who agreed to pay the stipulated price of $25,000.

After the papers had been placed in escrow, the defendant refused to make the sale, it is claimed.

TUSTIN

TUSTIN, March 5.—Mrs. F. C. Bennett was hostess Tuesday afternoon to members of the literary section of the Ebell club. A large number of guests attended the meeting. Mrs. Salvadore Padias reviewed the book, "The Perennial Bachelor." Following the review a general discussion was held over the book. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Preliminary plans for the annual May festival of the local elementary schools were in the hands of special committees today. Committees of teachers and parents were appointed recently to make arrangements for the event. The May festival is an elaborate affair staged under the direction of the teachers and parents each year. Parts in the program are given to every child in the school.

A vote of thanks was extended to Miss Ola Blair, music instructor of the local elementary school at a meeting of the finance committee of the Parent-Teacher association recently. Miss Blair arranged and was in charge of a benefit program given at the grammar school auditorium, which resulted in raising considerable money for the P-T-A.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Kenyon have been entertaining a number of friends and relatives recently. Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Horie, of Vancouver, B. C., were the guests of honor at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Monday evening. The Kenyon home was prettily decorated with daffodils and pink carnations, with the color scheme carried out in the nut cups and favors. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Horie, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cartwright, of Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kenyon, of Tustin.

A clever St. Patrick's party was given by Mrs. Kenyon in honor of the visitors from Canada Tuesday evening. Miss Marjorie Kenyon presented a Japanese dance during the evening. Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Horie, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kenyon, Miss Marjorie Kenyon, Perry Kenyon, Arthur Wakefield, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Kenyon.

A considerable fund was realized for the stage equipment of the local grammar school Tuesday night, when the Dixie Jubilee quartet presented a program at the school.

MARCH 7 TO BE OBSERVED HERE AS ARBOR DAY

Santa Ana and Orange county residents, particularly school children, will observe March 7 as the fifty-fourth anniversary of the designation of that day as Arbor day and as the birthday anniversary of Luther Burbank, of Santa Rosa, California's "plant wizard."

This year, Arbor day will find Burbank the center of a nationwide controversy as regards his views on religion. In many schools, Burbank's birthday will be the subject of educational programs, based upon the efforts of J. Sterling Morton for the conservation of the nation's forests.

The observance of Arbor day in California began in 1888, but it was not until 1909 that the state assembly passed the law officially designating March 7 as Arbor day. Arbor day in the United States is mostly a spring observance. In some states it is combined with Bird day.

Mother Dies As Daughter Takes Veil In Convent

CAEN, France, March 5.—Overcome, it is believed, by sorrow at the decision of her daughter to become a nun, Mme. Van de Vyvere, wife of the former Belgian minister of agriculture, died on the morning of the solemn ceremony of taking the vows at the Convent of La Deliverande of the Order of the Faithful Virgin.

M. Van de Vyvere and his wife arrived here at night and dined with their daughter. Then the father went to a hotel and the mother was given a room in the convent. When the daughter went to the mother's room in the morning, before the vows were to be taken, she found her dead. The doctors declared she had died in her sleep of heart disease.

Monsignor Lemonnier, Bishop of Bayeux, wished to postpone the ceremony, but M. Van de Vyvere, mastering his grief, insisted that it be carried out. He only requested that his daughter take the name of St. Mary of the Cross instead of St. Mary de Gonzague.

GOOD WORK, RADIO!

The press dispatches the other day carried a story of human interest which would go to prove two things: first, that the radio can be made, and in fact is, a power for good; and second, that the crime wave, so called, has not entirely submerged the people of this country, and that there are many of our American people who would find act upon the principle set forth by Him who said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

While laboring with three others to repair a damaged pier at Santa Monica, Harry Hoover was swept to his death by the churning seas. His family, consisting of his wife and three small children, were in their little cabin in Topanga canyon, entirely ignorant of the death of the breadwinner.

They were in dire poverty and without funds. Their plight did not become known until the following day, when a radio broadcasting station put the story on the air, and asked for aid for those who had been bereft. The radio had done its part and done it well.

The people who heard made immediate response. It came in the shape of useful contributions of all kinds. More than $3000 in cash has been turned over to the widow. Two building lots were donated, building material, labor and appliances were pledged to build the home. In addition, an almost endless procession visited the broadcast station carrying articles of every sort for the relief of the bereaved family. In the miscellany of gifts that arrived were clothing, food, candy, books, radio sets, and orders for merchandise of every description. An infant's layette was donated by a woman's club, for it was known that still another child was expected.

The radio plus the charitable and sympathetic instincts of the plain people forms a fine combination.

HE FOLLOWED HIS HUNCH

Old residents will recall H. R. Bristol, who for many years was the senior partner of one of Santa Ana's best known firms, that of Bristol and Rowley, druggists.

Some twenty years ago, or perhaps even more, Mr. Bristol conceived the idea that there was money to be made and health to be gained by anyone who would engage in the business of buying land and planting citrus fruits, oranges, more especially.

So it was that Mr. Bristol sold his drug business and followed his hunch. And many good people said, in effect: "Too bad, too bad, Bristol was doing very well in the drug business."

But Mr. Bristol continued to follow his star, or rather, his hunch, and set out more orange trees. In a few years he operated in the San Fernando valley, where he still lives and has a magnificent young orange grove of some seventy acres, many of the trees having just reached the full bearing age. His crop this year is an excellent one, when the age of the trees is taken into consideration, and will bring the owner a sum in the vicinity of $40,000. More than this, he is negotiating the sale of the whole ranch, with Eastern parties as the purchasers, and this sale is in all probability consummated as this is written.

If the sale is concluded Mr. Bristol will be paid more money than any one man has real need of or use for, and more, probably than he could make in the drug business for quite some time.

Incidentally be it said, Mr. Bristol believes in hunches.

THE ITALIAN DEBT SETTLEMENT

The public had almost forgotten about the Italian debt settlement, assuming that that little detail of international business was taken care of and out of the way. Now it bobs up again. The Senate has not yet disposed of the matter.

There is an unexpected volume of opposition to the settlement made by the debt commission and approved by the President. It appears in both parties. Most of it is based on a feeling that Italy was left off too easily. Some of it comes from a dislike of Mussolini.

Both classes of critics can make a good argument. Americans generally do not approve of Mussolini and his autocratic methods, and would like to get a good deal more from Italy in payment of the American debt. But most Americans seem to feel that the amount agreed upon is probably as much as Italy can or will pay, and that we're lucky to get that much. If the present settlement is overthrown now, we may not get anything at all.

THE GASOLINE ROAD TAX

The American people paid $140,000,000 last year in gasoline taxes, $60,000,000 more than the year before. Forty-four states contributed.

It is a lot of money, added to all the other taxes. But the nation has the money to pay, and doesn't feel it much because it dribbles out a few cents at a time. And it is probably as fair a tax as any, when applied, as it should be in every case, to building and maintaining good roads.

When the cry first arose, "Let those who use the roads pay for them," it wasn't altogether just. It made automobiles pay often an undue share of the cost of roads which served the whole community, and which raised real estate values for many who were not contributing. But now that nearly everybody owns and drives a car, the discrimination vanishes, and the tax becomes simply a convenient way to the good roads that everybody wants. California has settled down to an acceptance of the tax; it merely argues on how much per gallon it shall be.

COURTEOUS DRIVING

"It is almost axiomatic," writes the manager of a big automobile club's traffic bureau, "that safe conduct on the highways is founded on courtesy."

A million detailed traffic rules cannot cover up that fact. There is no substitute for courtesy anywhere, least of all on a crowded highway.

There used to be more of it, this traffic man says, than there is now. That was in the days when automobiles were new and few. It was natural then for drivers to treat each other courteously, as they would do in meeting neighbors on the street, or touching elbows with them at theater or church. But with the increase of traffic pressure on space and nerves, they have lost that fine old spirit of mutual accommodation. So we try to make written rules and automatic signal systems take the place of courtesy, and don't succeed. It may be harder now not merely because there are so many more cars on the road, but because "all kinds of people are driving them." There may be a larger proportion of bores and thugs behind steering wheels than there were in the primitive traffic days of 10 or 15 years ago. Yet it is still true that courtesy is the great solvent. Gentlemanly conduct is contagious, and tends to multiply itself on the road as it does anywhere else.

March Rainfall Prospects

The February rainfall in Riverside was 2.37 inches, which is a little above the normal precipitation of 1.92 inches. The season's rainfall to March 1 was 6.47 inches; this is a little under the normal to that date which is 7.44 inches. The deficiency is however not great and not such as to militate against the probability of a fair rainfall for the season.

March is a very dependable month on rainfall as the following record for 45 years indicates.

Year	Rainfall	Year	Rainfall
1881	1.30	1903	6.00
1882	1.08	1904	3.21
1883	.89	1905	4.87
1884	6.56	1906	6.33
1885	.01	1907	3.20
1886	1.95	1908	.85
1887	.02	1909	1.68
1888	3.84	1910	1.55
1889	5.10	1911	1.98
1890	.80	1912	4.02
1891	.40	1913	.54
1892	1.07	1914	.50
1893	6.71	1915	.32
1894	.70	1916	1.26
1895	2.54	1917	.59
1896	3.16	1918	5.49
1897	1.62	1919	1.65
1898	.62	1920	3.54
1899	1.13	1921	2.19
1900	1.11	1922	1.98
1901	.32	1923	.78
1902	2.33	1924	2.70
		1925	1.72

Average . . . . . 2.19
Only three times in 45 years—1885, 1887 and 1917—has there failed to be considerable rain in March. And in these seasons there were quite heavy rains in April—2.15 inches in 1885; 1.70 inches in 1887, and .70 inch in 1917. Even in the years of deficient rainfall, as 1881 and 1904—the March rainfall was rarely less than an inch and frequently over that.

In 1903 the rainfall in March was six inches; and for April 1.73. In 1904 the March total was 3.21 and .68 of an inch fell in April. In 1905 the March and April totals were 4.87 inches; the April total .45, and the May total .88. In 1906 the March rainfall and the April total 1.35. In 1912 the March rainfall was 4.02 inches and the April total 2.34 inches. Most of this fell within a week—March 5-12—when the precipitation was 4.86.

For the last eight years without a break the March precipitation has been very satisfactory. As the season's average March is the second wettest month of the year, next to January. The record of February suggests the probability of normal rainfall for March.

Prosperity at What Cost?

Long Beach Press-Telegram
Governor Rodriguez of the northern district of Lower California proposes to strike hypocritical Gringos where they live—in their pocketbooks. He threatens to take "millions of dollars" worth of trade away from them by closing the border gateways to the United States. He says that the ways of Tia Juana and Mexico are against the United States. He says that the United States is in a position to take away from them the trade that is now theirs. He says that the United States is in a position to take away from them the trade that is now theirs. He says that the United States is in a position to take away from them the trade that is now theirs.

Surgeon General, United States Health Service

BE CAREFUL OF BABY'S MILK
(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of ten articles on the care of babies. Tomorrow: Preparing Milk.)

At times it becomes necessary to feed babies something besides the milk which nature intended for them. In such cases the change should, if possible, be made gradually. This important step should not be taken without the advice of a competent physician.

The usual substitute for mother's milk and perhaps the best and safest substitute is cow's milk, modified to bring the percentage of fat and sugar up to that of mother's milk. This addition can be accomplished by adding milk, sugar and cream of known fat percentage.

Great skill is required, however, to formulate a proper milk for a given child and this should not be undertaken without the advice of a good doctor. Once the proper formula for the child in question has been obtained from your doctor, you should not forget that this formula requires changing from time to time as the child grows older.

You should not forget also that it is necessary to have clean milk as a basis on which to build the health and strength of your child.

Clean milk can be obtained only from clean cows and every step in the procuring, storing, delivering and preparing of this food must be safeguarded by rigorous cleanliness.

Milk, unless it is sterilized, always contains many germs. If the milk is clean in the first place, if it is cooled as soon as it is taken from the cow, and if it is kept cold, that is at a temperature of 50 degrees Fahrenheit or below, the chances for the development of the germs are very materially decreased. Milk which has been kept too long before delivery is unfit to be used, especially for children.

Beauty in Book of Job

By the Rev. Harry J. Bray, Kansas City.

"I am of the opinion that the Book of Job is quite generally neglected by the average reader of the Bible.

From the standpoint of literature alone I doubt if its equal can be found. Men of letters always have recognized its beauty and value. Thomas Carlyle has said, "I call the Book of Job one of the grandest things ever written with pen—a noble book, all men's book! There is nothing, I think, in the Bible or out of it, of equal literary merit."

There is a story about Carlyle, enough like him to be true: He was one time asked by his hostess, when he was on a visit, to read a part from the Scriptures. He selected the first chapter of Job and became so interested in it that he insisted on reading the book through before allowing breakfast to be served.

The book itself, according to structure, falls naturally into three parts:

The prologue in prose, chapters 1-2.
The dialogue in poetry, chapters 3:1-42:6.
The epilogue in prose, chapters 42:7-17.

The problem which the author seeks to answer is this, "If God is, and is good, why does evil prosper and goodness suffer?" and through a series of debates between Job and his friends He seeks to teach by means of a concrete example of an innocent man's suffering that there is such a thing as disinterested religion, and that Satan's insinuations in chapter 1:9, "Dost Job fear God for what he has?" (the implication being that Job feared God for what there was in it) is false.

As we make a perusal of this beautiful composition we find both light and darkness, but in every case the structure is superb.

"Man that is born of woman is of few days and full of trouble."

"He cometh forth like a flower and is cut down."

"He fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not."

Let us compare with the picture painted in the words above another; here it is:

"For I know that my redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth;

"And though after my skin worms destroy this body,

"Yet in my flesh (or better, apart from this flesh) shall I see God."

The ultimate outcome of the struggle is that Job is restored to a prosperity double that which he formerly enjoyed; his friends of former days gather round him; he is again blessed with children and dies "old and full of days."

Worth While Verse

IN TIME OF "THE BREAKING OF NATIONS"

Only a man harrowing clouds
In a slow silent walk,
With an old horse that stumbles and nods
Half asleep as they stalk.

Only thin smoke without flame
From the heaps of couch-grass:
Yet this will go onward the same
Though dynasties pass.

Yonder a maid and her wight
Come whispering by:
War's annals will fade into night
Ere their story die.

—Thomas Hardy.

Time To Smile

HAD TO HAVE "SHIP" ON IT

Mistress (instructing new butler)—Now how would you address a baronet?
Butler—Your lordship.
Mistress—And his lady?
Butler—Your Ladyship.
Mistress—And an admiral?
Butler—Er—your flagship—Cornell Widow.

AS IT WAS AND IS

Guide—This is one of the original rooms of the castle. It hasn't been touched in 500 years.
Tourist—That's just like my landlord. He won't do a thing for me, either.—Kansas City Star.

WIT NOT LAME

Tramp—Help a poor cripple.
Aged Woman (touched by the appeal)—Bless me, why of course. Here's a dollar. Where are you crippled, my poor man?
Tramp—Financially crippled, miss.—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

SAFETY
Evening—and vast cloud ships
Sailing the blue;
Winds sighing through their sails;
Twilight—and you.

One calmly shining star's
Dim, riding light,
Guides the great drifting mass
Safe through the night.

Your's is the star's calm glow,
Mine is the bark;
Since you shine true, I'll drift
Safe, through the dark.

CHRONICLES OF THE LITTLE GRAY HOUSE

When the first drops of yesterday's little rain began falling on the roof of the Little Gray House, I was reminded of a lesson in optimism which I recently experienced, and the rain was absolute proof that lookers on the bright side of things, are in the right.

It was during the breathlessly hot santana that swept down from the desert last week, that we encountered that genial Old Fellow and baseball fan, C. H. Marcher who spoke of the summery weather. "Have you noticed," I questioned, "How a santana seems invariably to follow a rain, this year? We haven't had a single shower but what has lost so much in benefit by being followed in just a few days by a desert wind."

"Don't look at it in that way," he responded smilingly. As it happened, we haven't had a single desert wind this season but what has been followed in just a short time by a nice little rain. You just notice now, for I predict that we'll have a rain a very short time after this wind."

It seemed such a pleasant view to take of things, and while I'm not an incurable optimist by any means, neither am I an incurable pessimist, and of two views, I really prefer the sunny one to the dreary and gloomy one. So the vindication of his judgment when the little rain began, was most interesting.

Speaking of Mr. Marcher, being a baseball fan, you just watch when the World series is recorded on the big score board at the Register of office next summer. He will be the first man on the ground, and Mrs. Marcher is quite as much of a fan. They bring their camp chairs and choose a nice shady spot nearest the score board. And there they will be found every day of the series.

COMMUNION

I send my love to my dead each day;
I know not how; I only know it goes

Forth from my heart, and going, ever grows;
That as it flies, there's nothing can

That, like a dove, it fondly keeps its way
Through dark and light along the path it knows;

That in its faithful flight it never slows,
And if I toll or sleep, goes not astray.

I send my love unto my dead, and they—
They know 'tis sent, that I have not forgot;

For often when I am alone I feel
Their love return—and oh, no words can say

The peace that comes to me! It matters not What woes betide, I have wherewith to heal.

Samuel Minturn Peck.

Dear Quilter:

We know a man who is a sort of a Midas and everything he touches turns into money and this man came to California without any money and then it was that his touch of gold came into some way or other of a small apartment and he worked hard and improved it and sold it and bought another and then he traded it for an orange grove and he was making money all the time and still is and therefore we are sure that this is going to be a bumper year for the oranges for that reason.

THE OLD PEPPER TREE
It grew in "Dead Man's Alley," the people said, in sport, but we who lived beside it said, "The driveway of the court." It waved its graceful branches through a life-time's measured span, dating beyond the memory of any living man. Beneath its spreading canopy have little children played, and there the busy housewife sewed, and rested in its shade.

There neighbors met and chatted, there song birds built their nests, and many a brood was cradled there, beneath the feathered breasts. The whispering of lovers, the chime of wedding bells, the sound of mirth and merriment, the grief of funeral knells; all this, and more, it witnessed, through the vistas of the years, surcharged with human interest: its hopes, its joys and fears, until the fateful day arrived, that brought the sad decree, and sounded the death warrant of our loved and honored tree.

"It is not safe," the wise ones said: "its usefulness is over; it menaces both life and limb—'tis rotted at the core."

Down the Gray Lane of Sorrow, came men, with ax and saw, with derelict and with pulley, for so decreed the law. And each incision of the ax, an every stroke of steel, brought groaning, quivering branches down. (I'm sure that trees can feel!) Shorn of its pride and glory, and like a monarch slain, the motor vans that bore it hence, were like a funeral train! As for me, I have a fancy, that 'twould be both wise and good, to engrave upon a tablet at the place whereon it stood,

"Poems are made by fools like me, But only God can make a tree."

Dear Patcher!

How is this for a square in your Quilt which "covers" the square?

CRUEL FB

When he met the lovely KS

Pressed his suit with fervent ardor

Asked her please to name the DS.

Said she, "I'm very sorry,

I'm afraid you are too LS—

It's a trifling little matter,

But I have another MS."
